Dedication

Powerful, wonderful, splendid is our state—Illinois. Her prairies are a great, green garden, and even under her earth lies treasure.

When has there been a people like her people, who have so swiftly and so well built mighty cities? But in the power to give a great man birth and to rear him up to greatness, lies the real test of a state; and Grant and Logan and Lincoln are her sons. Yet not to the people, and not to the land, but to the state—to the ever-changing and yet eternal state—to the State of Illinois, we dedicate this, the Illio of Nineteen Hundred and Sixteen.

Commencement 1914

The Gregory Memorial exercises were the special feature of the 1914 Commencement. The bronze tablet which now marks the grave of the first president of the University was unveiled at that time. Simple but impressive services were held, commemorating the life and work of the University's founder. Many of the alumni who attended the University during Dr. Gregory's administration were present.

The usual number of class reunions were held, and in addition, there was the alumni lawn festival, a new feature, which it is hoped will be repeated in future commencements. Representatives of every class save one in the University's history were present at the Gregory Reunion Convocation, where many prominent alumni united in paying tribute to the "Father of the University".

The campus, always beautiful during commencement time, was at its best last year. The three undergraduate classes had departed for home. In their places had come troops of relatives and friends eager to see the commencement services. Hand shaking and well wishing prevailed on every side. Eight hundred and forty-three students received degrees at Urbana. In addition to the degrees granted to senior and to graduate students, a number of students in attendance during the years 1868-1892 received their belated diplomas.

The commencement exercises proper began with the ambassador's salute of nineteen guns, which was fired by the battery as the procession began to form in front of the library. Lead by the band, the long procession then marched to the auditorium, where the address was delivered by Count Johann von Bernsdorff, the Imperial German Ambassador to the United States. When the exercises in the auditorium were completed, the new alumni, diplomas in hand, marched back to the front campus where President James delivered a short farewell address.

To mark the conclusion of their college life at Illinois, the graduates then formed in a circle in front of the library, and with tear dimmed eyes sang "By thy rivers gently flowing, Illinois, Illinois". When the last words of the chorus had been completed the circle was broken up. Each graduate was claimed by his friends. Another chapter in the University's history had been written.

Homecoming

Never before has the University of Illinois seen a Homecoming like that of 1915. It was a Homecoming in fact as well as in name. From every corner of the globe, from the north, south, east and west, from the oldest grad to the senior of 1914, they came. Mothers, fathers, sisters and sweethearts packed the trains to the platforms and even special trains were required to bring the mighty throng of visitors and Homecomers.

The fates and the gods were with us. We were favored with a football team that had taken the first long strides towards the championship of the west, and the holder of that title would be the winner of that momentous game. To win meant the beginning of a new era in Illinois football. To lose meant the return to gridiron oblivion from which we had so long struggled to arise.

Not only was a football title at stake but the Homecoming itself was in the hands of fate. The Illinois Student Union financed it and left nothing undone to make it long remembered and never to be forgotten. The game did the rest.

Homecoming was a success and the biggest success in its history. Nine thousand grads and visitors came back to view the progress of their Alma Mater. Old grads, separated for years, renewed acquaintanceships and friendships that were dear to them in days gone by and dearer now in their renewal. The students threw their doors wide open and displayed a generous hospitality that warmed the hearts of all. Every minute of the days were filled. Nothing was found wanting or undone and the team exceeded the wildest hopes and dreams of the most enthusiastic rooter. A championship was won on Illinois field in the most thrilling game ever staged by the Illinni.

Homecoming came and went, but with it came and stayed in the hearts of every Alumnus and undergraduate a deep and growing love and respect for our Alma Mater.

Hobo Band

1914

Hobo Band

"Bo"

At the call of the wild, weird and ridiculous the Seniors arose from their stately lethargy, threw off their proverbial dignity, and arrayed themselves in the motley rags of the Knights of the Ties. The disguise was complete. After passing in grand review before these dignitaries, namely "Shorty" Dubin and "Shorty" Sherman, and scouring the town for unfaithful Boes, the discovery of whom was met with yells of glee, and a sacrifice to the god of yellow paint, the army of tramps marched to Illinois Field, led by a band that astonished the listeners by its ability to play real music.

A lady hobo, attired in an X-ray skirt, was so annoyed by mashers that she was forced to appeal to the protection of the police. A creature attired as half man and woman, danced and flirted with itself, while an "old clothes" man performed bareback feats on a long-eared horse. The latest shipment of Belgian orphans clamored for milk which was fed to them in brown bottles. The Siamese triplets giggled with delight at seeing Chicago's goat burned on the altar while the band played the saddest of music.

After this solemn and sacred ceremony the band broke out in a hilarious burst of riotous music, while the hoboes danced and howled in their final orgy, truly prophetic of the coming victory.

Inter-Class Championship Football Game

Before this variegated crew of tramps and the syncopated strains of the "Blue Jay" band the class of 1916 romped away with the Interclass Football Championship for the third time in the history of the class. As freshmen, sophomores and now as juniors they have been undisputed champions of the interclass gridiron, a feat never equaled by any other class.

This year it was the sophomores' turn to give way to the onslaught of '16 and they fell to the score of 15 to 12. The game was exciting from beginning to end and displayed a finish in the gridiron art that is attained only by teams of championship class.

THE START.

Sack Rush

For two long months the Freshman and Sophomore tribes of the Illini had been straining at the leash and bitter enmity between the classes demanded satisfaction in battle.

When the day of strife dawned the warriors were up before the sun and their war whoops and battle cries rallied the sleeping braves to their colors. At the crack of the pistol the air was rent with gory battle cries as the blood-thirsty armies charged each other. All the pent-up rage, hatred and fury of a generation was let loose in that biting, beating and tearing struggle. The battle was fast and furious and the Frosh fought desperately, only to be overcome, routed and trampled on by the insatiable Sophs.

Illinois 21—Chicago 7

When Harold Pogue dived between the goal posts for the first touchdown, when seventeen thousand howling, football mad Illini jumped to their feet and yelled till their throats refused to give out another sound, a new page was turned in the history of Illinois. That day, marked by a thousand thrills that touched the heart of every loyal alumnus and undergraduate, marked the beginning of a new era. On that day Illinois came into her own and came to stay.

It was only a football game. But a game that will never be forgotten, for it stamped itself on the mind and heart of every man who loves his Alma Mater.

It was football, not luck nor a jinx, but pure, unadulterated football that pushed Pogue and Clark across the line, that guided the ball from the toe of Macomber. It was Football that turned a page in history and marked it—ILLINOIS FOREVER.

The Dance of the Hours

Just at sunset the bleachers of Illinois Field were filled with spectators gathered to see the Dance of the Hours. In former years the classes in the gymnasium had given a Maypole Dance before their Queen. This year "Illinois Spirit" showed "Mere Mortal" the joyous hours of the day.

With pattering, lifeless step "Mere Mortal" trudges thru the fields,—tired, discouraged and dejected. Her own melancholy thoughts engross her attention. She does not see the flowers about her, nor even the bird that hops across her path.

Suddenly she is startled by a strain of mysterious music, and is confronted by a beautiful nymph who seems to dance on the very air. She has met with the "Spirit of Illinois". However, she will have nothing to do with this joyful spirit. She refuses her repeated invitations to dance. Her very joy causes the "Mere Mortal" to feel by contrast that life for her is dull and the hours colorless. The spirit, pitying such despondency, invites her to mount to the enchanted throne from which she can see the beauty of the common hours of the day.

Wonderingly she hears the music as it ushers in girls dressed in the rosy colors of the Dawn; they dance and drive off in their chariots. The hour of Sunrise appears with her nymphs of radiant hues. There is a roll of thunder, and the Cloud Imps swoop down, dancing elfishly as they play with the Lightning. But they vanish before the prim gray Raindrops. Then there is a riot of colors as the Rainbow spans the horizon. The hour of Noon comes on with its yellow heat waves. These brilliant lively Sun Nymphs dance up and down, as waves of heat upon the hard earth. The Winds come with a rustling sound, cooling the air as they rush to and fro. The hour of Sunset follows, with her gorgeous colors; Twilight, peaceful and mystic; and deep Night with her lighted sparklers twinkling like stars. At last the Mortal, thoroughly awakened to the beauty of everything about her discards her somber cloak and with the Illinois Spirit leads all the hours in a grand ensemble.

The Girls' Stunt Show

GAMMA PHI INDIANS

The Girls' Annual Stunt Show was given the night of May 14. This, like everything else connected with the University of Illinois grows better each year. The stunts were the pick of a severe competition and each and every one was well worth seeing. Even those who stood in line for tickets from eight o'clock on a chilly gray morning were fully repaid.

Gamma Phi Beta was awarded first place for their "Camp of the Senior Illini". It was a modernized Indian farce, full of clever local hits and takeoffs on the events of the history of the Senior Class, the chimes, the Senior election, and the Illinois Union. One of the most charming parts of the stunt was the singing of "The Land of the Sky Blue Waters" by Mary Franklin Savage.

Chi Omega was given second place for their "Jack-in-the-Box," a snappy dainty stunt spiced with lots of pep and ginger. At the stroke of twelve, the dolls, bewitchingly dressed in pink and blue clown suits, came to life and sliding from their seats began to dance. Jack, in the person of Mildred Emmons, sprang from his box and floated thru a novel little dance, ending in a series of somersaults.

Pi Beta Phi in the "University Graveyard" was far from being a "dead one". The graves, representing various University events, gave up their occupants who then united in a wierd and ghostly resurrection dance. Alpha Xi Delta in "A Modern Hiawatha" gave one of the most finished stunts on the program. Amid most realistic forest scenes the Indian braves sat about the fires before the teepees, reading popular magazines and nibbling "La Vogues", while the ultra-modern Hiawatha courted Minnehaha in the style of 1916.

The "Topsy Minstrels" of Kappa Kappa Gamma, shone and scintillated both in their repartee and their variegated costumes. The clog dance by Helen Brown scored a big hit.

The "Fete of the Flowers" by Alpha Omicron Pi was unusually novel and attractive, being original both in music and words. Athenian closed the program in "The Survival of the Fittest", presenting the trials and tribulations endured by the student in evading the Strptococcus Scarlatina.

Miss Emma Breidstadt entertained the audience, while waiting for the decision of the judges, with the "Wild Bird Dance" from the May Fete.

Chicago vs. Illinois

On Friday a host of Maroon athletes invaded Illinois Field determined to reap the harvests of victory both on the track and on the diamond. Unfortunately the Orange and Blue defenders on the cinder path upset their plans, and for the fourth consecutive time Illinois became the Dual Meet Champions of the West.

Three Illinois records were shattered, two Conference records were broken and another Illinois record equalled in the brilliant performance of Coach Gill's triumphant athletes. For Captain Sanders, Henderson, Burke, Bolander, and Butt this was their last performance on Illinois Field, and in great part it was due to their efforts that Chicago was allowed to keep but 55 points out of the 126.

The first Conference record was smashed by Arthur Mason, the sophomore wonder, who completed the two-mile grind in the remarkable time of 9:41 $\frac{1}{2}$ . Harold Pogue, another Sophomore, by a leap of twenty three feet one and a half inches, gained the honor of breaking the Conference record in the broad jump. Fred Hendersen clipped three fifths of a second from the Illinois record for the half mile, travelling the distance in 1:57 $\frac{1}{4}$ . Captain Sanders tried hard to break his own record in the quarter, but had to be satisfied with tying his former mark of 49 $\frac{3}{5}$ .

The track meet was hardly over when the rooters began to shift to the baseball bleachers, where the largest Interscholastic crowd ever on Illinois Field saw Chicago defeat Illinois by the close score of 4 to 3. The game was full of thrills from the moment that Umpire Pickett shouted "Play Ball" until the very end of the ninth inning, which found the excited crowd on their feet yelling madly for a tying run. Des Jardien, the mighty Maroon giant, pitched a wonderful game for Chicago, and allowed Illinois but five scattered hits. Three of these were accredited to "Slip" Cogdall, the midget second baseman. Gunkel, who started for Illinois was substituted by Hallas in the third inning. "Smoke" pitched phenomenal ball, allowing only two hits in the six innings but the damage had already been done, for in the second inning the Maroons had taken advantage of the few costly bobbles of the Illinois fielders and had scored three runs. The Illinois runs came in the first, when Phelps scored on Norgren's error; in the sixth, when a three base hit by Cogdall brought in McRobie; and in the eighth, when, through a base on balls, another hit by Cogdall and a passed ball, McRobie was again able to cross the plate.

The Interscholastic Field and Track Meet

Saturday morning the stage was turned over to our visitors,—the six hundred high school athletes who competed for honors in the Twenty-second Annual Interscholastic Meet. Never before had there been so many contestants, so many high schools represented, nor the fast track so nearly perfect.

Cheered on by a large and enthusiastic representation in the bleachers, University High of Chicago easily won first honors, although threatened at times by Oak Park High and Lane Tech. LaGrange, who had but little difficulty in maintaining the lead among the smaller schools, was able to almost double the points of Harrisburg, its nearest competitor.

The performances of some of the "prep" stars proved a revelation. Smart, who captured 15¾ points for LaGrange, was the most successful individual point winner. Carter, of University High, by winning the two hundred and the two-twenty, also merited special attention, while the performance of his team-mate, Spink, who won the half-mile in 1:59½, was nothing short of phenomenal. Other stars were: Husted of Roodhouse, Davis of Centralia, Allman of Urbana, and Kirkpatrick of Champaign.

Interscholastic Oratorical Contest

Friday night while the Glee and Mandolin Clubs were holding forth at the Illinois, the Interscholastic Oratorical Contest was being held in the Auditorium. Ten extemporaneous speeches and five memorized orations were delivered by the high school orators. Four of the contestants were young ladies. Edward Hayes, representing Urbana High School, won the premier event with his oration entitled, "The New American Era". Charles Fairman of Alton and Helene Doty of New Trier won second and third honors.

Clark Eichelberg ranked first among the extemporaneous speakers. He discussed the first year of President Wilson's administration. Charles Fraser of Champaign and Percy Clark of Elgin were second and third. Dean Babcock, Professor Ward and Dr. Boyer acted as judges.

Six of the fifteen who entered the contest returned to the University as freshmen last September. It was from these that the strong freshman debating team was recruited. This seems to show that the contest has the desired result of attracting good public speaking material to the University of Illinois.

The Interscholastic Circus

By 6:30 Saturday evening ten thousand people had packed the bleachers on three sides of Illinois Field, and were impatiently awaiting the grand parade which was to usher in the Ninth Annual Interscholastic Circus. The brilliant electric arcs and the powerful searchlights showed forth the great three ringed arena in readiness for this fitting climax to the successful Interscholastic week. Promptly at seven o'clock two bands announced the approach of the grand street parade. Never before in the history of the field had there been such an array of wierd and ferocious animals, nor such a collection of strange and wonderful creations. Fifty stunts, pantomines, travesties, satires, farces, skits, in fact every sort of innovation imaginable, followed each other in quick succession. Forty clowns clamored for your attention with every laugh-provoking trick and jest in the budget of old King Jolly.

The last strain of the band had hardly died away when, at the crack of the ring-master's whip the greatest show on earth was in progress. A warship, clouded in smoke and belching flame, moored before the forts of Vera Cruz and stormed the citadel. A monstrous stomach displayed all the pleasures of the night before and the gloom of the morning after. Poor Kathlyn fought her way thru jungle, fire, water, brimstone and the lion's den and was torn from the clutches of the desperate villain by her never failing lover. Mere man defied all the laws of nature in a death challenging swing thru the air. His body absolutely impregnable to the hottest of fires, the world's greatest high diver threw himself into a sea of seething flame and emerged unscathed. Tumblers threw themselves in gyrations and giant swings while heavenly hash was manufactured before the worldly eyes of the onlookers.

The first prize was awarded to a Rifle Team whose unerring aim never failed to hit the bull's eye, break bottles, and finally released an Illinois pennant to the breeze. Its marksmen represented Beta Theta Pi. Delta Tau Delta staged a regular Circus Concert which received second award. The Students' best friend—the Movies—was reeled off in true picture land style by Phi Kappa Sigma, and was awarded third cup. A mule that displayed all the traits of the well known long eared horse was given the blue ribbon in the animal show. It was presented by Phi Sigma Kappa.

Among the clowns the prizes were awarded to M. Wolter, a real gosh darn constable, and to Tom Brown, a three legged man. In the doubles, Old Man Bugby and his wife drew the first cup, while F. E. Mills and Steve Birch as "Elmer and his Maw" received second award.

As a grand finale to the evening the Inter-Sorority Relay race furnished a thrill that made the shivers run down the back of Harry Gill himself. It was won by Alpha Chi Omega.

The 1916 ILLIO is the first evidence which the student body has of the success or failure of the growing feeling that University Publications should be more carefully controlled and organized. In former years the ILLIO has been the private enterprise of the Manager and Editor. It has often been purely a money making proposition. The financial control which the Illini Publishing Company exercises over the book has eliminated this element. Under the old system there was absolutely no connection between the management of one year and that of the following year. Such a system has made advance and improvement necessarily haphazard and uncertain. But now from the Sophomore Assistants are chosen the men who will produce the book next year. Thus the element of permanency for which there has been such a crying need is automatically introduced. The present Management has made a conscientious effort to thoroughly prepare the Sophomores for the problems which they will have to meet next year.

The Management has endeavored to incorporate in the 1916 ILLIO all of the ideals for which a college annual should stand. We have considered the ILLIO as a publication of the University of Illinois, rather than a book put out by the Junior Class. Neither time nor expense have been spared to picture our University in the finest terms of the printing and engraving art.

The staff of the present ILLIO has worked together in perfect harmony at all times. To each of its forty members we wish to acknowledge our appreciation. To a few we are particularly indebted for their painstaking efforts in creating this volume. The Art Editor, Frank Babcock, and his able assistants, McDonald Lovell and Henry Dubin, have incorporated within the book more art work and of a better quality than has ever been exhibited in a student publication. Roger Hill has had complete charge of the Roast Section, and all that it adds to the success of the book must be accredited to his cleverness and industry. John Heindel has managed the Activities Section in a very creditable manner, and has ably assisted in much of the editorial routine. Fenton Williams, Joseph Pitts, Wyatt Emmond, and all seven of the sophomore assistants have worked hard. Much credit is due them.

The Siren

The Siren calls herself the "‘Life’ of Illinois." Soon after the opening day of school the first issue of this magazine, for the fourth collegiate year of its existence, appeared on the campus. The newcomers were accosted on every turn by the cry, "Siren, new Siren out today. Siren." One of these, not knowing what the name of the magazine implied, asked his upperclassman companion the meaning of the statement. "Well," began that person, "you know what kind of a magazine ‘Life’ is, don't you?" "Yes," replied the newcomer. "Then," continued the former, "the Siren is the ‘Life’ of Illinois." And the newcomer nodded understandingly.

Building on the firm foundation of last year's successful management, the Illinois Magazine has not only increased its aspirations but its accomplishments as well. "Literary does not mean dull" has been the slogan of the staff this year, and as a result, the magazine has prospered. Two thousand people read its pages each month. The best literary productions of the campus, serious thought and discussions of the most prominent questions of the University life are included within its field.

This is the eighteenth successive year the Agricultural Club of the College of Agriculture has published a monthly magazine known as the "Illinois Agriculturist". In its earlier years the magazine was among the smallest and weakest published by the various agricultural colleges in the United States. Now it is second to none both in quality and size. In attempting to put into the magazine an atmosphere of permanence, the present management has realized its ambition to a gratifying extent. Only sound and sanely conservative reading matter, which has covered both university and outside agricultural affairs has been solicited and accepted. By serving both local and other agricultural interests, the management has sought to establish in the "Agriculturist" influences which react from the University to the outside and from the outside to the University.

The Technograph

The Technograph, established in 1885 by the civil engineering students, has continued to grow until it is now the technical magazine for the entire College of Engineering. It was formerly issued as an annual, but under a reorganization a few years ago, it became a quarterly. The Technograph is published by a board of representatives from the various engineering societies. This board chooses the editor and business manager, and determines in general the policy of the publication.

The greater part of the magazine is given to articles of a technical nature, written by undergraduates, alumni, members of the faculty, or people of authority not connected with the University. A department is given over to the notes of activities of the participating societies, and another to general notes of the College of Engineering. The present policy of The Technograph is, in general, to provide a medium by which the ideas of the engineering students may be expressed and thru which the results of the different engineering departments may be published, and to place before the undergraduate body the ideas of men in practical engineering.

The Summer Illini has made a place for itself as the newspaper of the Summer session of the University, in the same way and to about the same relative extent, as The Daily Illini has done in the Winter session. It is the only means whereby official and unofficial notices of coming events can be given general publicity, and in that respect it is sufficiently useful. But it also serves to express the unity of spirit and interest in the student and faculty community during the summer period. Recognition of this essential usefulness has led the Illini Publishing Company to put The Summer Illini on the same basis as The Daily Illini for the future.

Mask and Bauble Dramatic Club

During the year of 1914-15 Mask and Bauble Dramatic Club has maintained its high standard in the production of representative modern plays. "Higher Up," from the pen of the late Thacher Howland Guild; "The Great Galeoto," by Jose Echegary; and "Our Wives," by Kraft and Mandel, were successfully staged.

In the production of these plays the tastes of the student audience, as well as the interest of the student actor, were considered. From an abundance of material exceptionally strong casts were selected by open tryouts; and those actors showing a high degree of faithfulness and ability were honored by election to membership in the club.

The aim of Mask and Bauble to foster an interest in the drama among the students, has been furthered by a playwright competition. The acting of short sketches by members of the club at open meetings, has developed their talent and aroused a wholesome interest in the work of the organization.

Realizing the benefits of cooperation with other dramatic clubs, Mask and Bauble took the initiative in forming a national organization known as the Associated University Players. The clubs at Northwestern, Wisconsin and Chicago joined with Mask and Bauble as charter members of this organization.

An irreparable loss has been sustained in the death of Thacher Howland Guild. Mask and Bauble had its beginning in one of Mr. Guild's drama classes, and under his influence it developed to its present position as one of the foremost university dramatic clubs of the country. Mask and Bauble stands today as a fitting memorial to Professor Guild's work in the interests of the drama at Illinois.

The Illinois Union Dramatic Club

The Illinois Union Dramatic Club has presented comic operas "manned" by the students for several years. In 1911 "The Maid of the Moon" was produced. "The Dad of the Undergrad" was staged in 1912, and "The Prodigal Prince" in 1913.

The production of a play in 1914 was tabooed by the University authorities because of the scarlet fever epidemic. Nothing short of an earthquake could have stopped the production of a play in 1915, and as a result "The Maid and the Myth" was staged. The book was written by W. L. Van Sant; the lyrics by R. F. Field and the music by Hale Byers. "The Maid and the Myth" eclipsed any of the previous successes, and prospects for future production are very bright.

The keen competition among student playwrights sets a higher standard each year, and there is always an abundance of the particular kind of dramatic talent needed to stage the operas. These two factors make a satisfactory combination in meeting the student demand for operas that are full of originality and "pep".

The Lambkins Club

The Lambkins Club is a unique organization at the University of Illinois. It was organized in the Spring of nineteen fourteen as "an organization of leaders in Illinois dramatics, literature, art, music and forensics for the purpose of association of such men and for the encouragement of student activity along these lines."

The Lambkins plan to give an annual gambol on the first day of Spring or as close thereto as possible. Their first appearance was in conjunction with the Interscholastic Concert of the musical clubs in the Spring of nineteen fourteen, when they scored a marked success.

The Lambkins attempt nothing in the line of what is generally termed "legitimate" entertainment. Their gambols will always be more in the nature of minstrel, burlesque, or revue.

"Higher Up"

"Higher Up", a farce-comedy by the late Thacher Howland Guild of the English department, was presented at the Illinois Theatre March 28, 1914, under the direction of the author, assisted by F. Kitson Cowley. The play is a sparkling, witty composition clever enough to be comparable to the best modern comedies. In the play, the match making mothers, the meddlesome newspaper, and the familiar melodrama character, "the Man Higher Up", are satirized. The characters are "real" people, mixed up in an affair that might have happened.

"The Great Galeoto"

The presentation of "The Great Galeoto" by Mask and Bauble was one of the features of commencement week. The author, Jose Echegaray, was a Spanish dramatist of unrivaled popularity, and "The Great Galeoto" was one of his best plays. It is a tragedy in the grand style, replete with delicate shadings of effects, which demand the highest dramatic art to produce. This was the heaviest play ever staged by Mask and Bauble and the cast which was carefully selected included some of the best dramatic talent in the University. The successful production of the play was a fitting climax to the excellent work which Mr. Cowley did for the club as coach before his transfer to the University of Minnesota.

"Our Wives"

The three-act farce, "Our Wives", adopted from the German by Helen Kraft and Frank Mandel, was presented during the Fifth Annual Homecoming Celebration, Nov. 13th and 14th, 1914. This was the first play ever produced by the club without the guidance and support of Prof. Guild or F. Kitson Cowley. The efficient work of the new coach, Mrs. Elsie Weary Heilman, was evidenced by a pleasing interpretation which compared favorably with the original professional production. The play was staged as an experiment and marks a departure from the production of a "straight comedy" for the fall play. The favorable criticism of the student audience was encouraging and plays of a similar nature will be considered for future production.

"Newly Married"

By Bjornstjerne Bjornson

The annual dramatic productions of the Adelphic and Illiola Literary Societies were presented in Morrow Hall on the 1st and 2nd of May, 1914. The first play was "Mr. Steinman's Corner", by Alfred Sutro. The play itself was up to the University standards, and the previous dramatic experience of several members of the cast helped to give it a successful production. The second play, "Newly Married", was a two-act comedy from the pen of the noted Swedish playwright, Bjornstjerne Bjornson. Both plays were presented under the direction of F. Kitson Cowley, and too much can not be said of the admirable manner in which he trained and directed the cast.

ORATORY & DEBATE

The Year in Oratory and Debate

The greatest change effected in the Oratorical and Debating work at the University this year was the formation of the two new debating leagues, the Midwest Debating League, and the I. M. I. Debating League. By dropping Indiana and Ohio as debating opponents and taking up Michigan and Wisconsin, Illinois now has debates with every strong forensic institution in the west except Northwestern, and her standing among other universities as a public speaking institution can be readily determined.

A. V. Essingson, representing the University, won first place in the Northern Oratorical League contest at Madison last year. This was the first time that Illinois has been able to secure first honors in the classic oratorical contest of the west. E. L. Hasker, the peace orator, was second in the state contest held at Aledo. He tied for first place, according to the decision of the judges, but the Knox representative was given the decision on percentages.

A much larger number than usual tried out for places on the fall and spring debating teams. In both cases able and experienced men were selected. In the fall debates with Iowa and Minnesota, both contests were close and well fought. Illinois lost both contests not because she had weak teams, but because she had engaged in stronger competition than ever before.

R. E. Himstedt, a veteran of three debating teams, was selected as the University's representative in the N. O. L. contest to be held at Iowa City May 7. Mr. Himstedt has a masterful oration, and with his vigorous and forceful delivery, should acquit himself creditably in this contest. Judges who heard the peace orator this year declared that G. D. Stopp, the winner, delivered one of the finest orations heard in tryouts at Illinois for years. They predicted that he would take a high rank among the state orators at the contest held at Rock Island.

In both oratorical and debating work, Illinois is now in competition with the best universities in the west. That she can assume at once a position of leadership against such universities as Michigan and Wisconsin can hardly be expected. But those who are actively interested in forensic work, and who see the steady advances being made in both oratory and debate, feel that the time is not far distant when Illinois will come up in forensics just as she has come up in athletics, and will assume her natural position of leadership among the great universities of the west.

Interest will be especially stimulated next year when the Northern Oratorical League contest will be held at Urbana in the Auditorium.

The University Band

One of the most satisfactory features of the wonderful growth of the University of Illinois has been the development of the University Military Band. It has been in existence for twenty-five years and is now one of the most important institutions of the University and one of which all are justly proud.

Beginning in 1890 with a mere handful of musicians, it has grown until it is now the largest University band in the country. Its roster includes over two hundred men, divided into First, Second and Reserve Bands and the Trumpet and Drum Corps. Accompanying this development has been the accumulation of a band library of over two thousand selections. The same class of programs that are played by Sousa, Innes, Pryor and other noted bands are played by the band on its concert tours and at the campus concerts. The instruments which are the property of the University are valued at over six thousand dollars and are all of high grade and excellent tone.

To the leadership of Albert Austin Harding is due the credit for the great advance made in the band in the past decade. Mr. Harding is not only a talented leader and director, but he is also a master of all band instruments, and it has been under his direct supervision that the Band Library has been accumulated and the instruments selected. One of his ambitions has been to see courses for bandmasters in the curriculum of the University. His hopes were realized this year and there are now courses leading to both the direction and organization of bands.

Another feature which he has introduced is the presenting to each graduating band player a gold medal watch fob which corresponds to an athletic "T". During the year a short course will be given for all who wish to acquaint themselves with the methods used in organizing and maintaining a successful band.

Military Department

Great progress has been made in the military department of the University in the last year. From 1700 cadets in 1913-14, it has increased to 2133. The corps was reorganized into an infantry brigade of two regiments commanded by a Cadet Colonel, and each regiment by a Cadet Lieutenant Colonel.

A new uniform, the olive drab woolen service—the same as worn by the U. S. Army—has been approved by the board of trustees, to take effect at the beginning of the next school year.

The increase in efficiency, however, has quite equaled the increase in numbers, due in a large part to the greater interest and energy displayed by the cadet officers.

Upon the report of the U. S. Army officer who inspected the corps last year, the War department, for the first time rated the University as "Distinguished" in its military department. A division of Military information has been established in the department to collect and tabulate all valuable military data.

In the future, credit will be given for two semesters military drill, to all students attending the summer military camps, and those having this experience will be given preference for appointment in the corps of cadets.

The University has been honored by a number of distinguished visitors in the past year who were very favorably impressed by the showing of the military department. One of these, President Drinker of Lehigh University was especially enthusiastic and complimentary.

National Reserve Corps

The society of the National Reserve Corps was formed by the students attending the Military Instruction Camps in the summer of 1913 at Gettysburg, Pennsylvania and Momterey, California. The resultant success of these camps encouraged the Secretary of War and the Chief of Staff to go on with the project in 1914. The Illinois branch of the Society of the National Reserve Corps was formed in October, 1914. Its membership is composed of those men who have attended one of these camps held during the past two years. The majority of the members attended the camp which was located at Ludington, Michigan, during the summer of 1914. The Illinois delegation at the Ludington Camp was composed of fifteen students; the largest delegation sent by any of the large Western Universities. The pleasure and benefit which this camp afforded these students made a permanent organization seem desirable, the object of which would be to perpetuate the system of student military instruction camps and to encourage a large attendance from the University of Illinois.

President James is taking an active interest in the summer camp proposition, which he believes will make better and stronger citizens out of the students who attend. He is a member of the advisory board of University Presidents, whose purpose is to further the development of these camps. To increase the student interest in these camps, he has seen fit to allow students attending one of these camps, two credits toward the fulfillment of their military requirements at the University of Illinois.

PRESIDENT JAMES REVIEWING THE BRIGADE

Competitive Day

May 27th was the annual military competitive day. This was the day set aside by the department for the various competitions which are held every year. Lieutenant Colonel C. G. Davis and Captain E. H. Dunivan of the 6th Illinois National Guard, with Lieutenant B. W. Phillips of the 14th U. S. Infantry, acted as judges for the department on this occasion.

The individual competitiveness, the first events of the day, took place on Illinois field, Sergeant Major E. Shelby winning the University Gold Medal for the best drilled sophomore and Private L. H. Gift winning the Hazelton Medal for the best drilled freshman. The competitions between the Signal Corps and the Artillery detachments were the next on the program. The other events of the day took place on the South campus, the sophomore company competitive being the first of these. Company "C", commanded by E. L. Hasker, took the laurels on this occasion. The freshmen battalions were the next to compete against each other. The third battalion, under the command of Major P. C. Rich, won this event. As a final event of the day, the twelve freshman companies drilled in keen competition. Company "C", commanded by Captain Bublitz, won this event.

In the midst of a garden of flowers, under the soft mellow light of the evening, the music coming from a bower concealed in a thick mass of foliage, the dull cares of the class of 1916 were danced away before their annual Junior Promenade. The old armory is but a sordid name for the beautiful paradise into which it had been transformed by the canopy of smilax and roses which overhung the dance floor, and following the walls, formed a forest-like ceiling for the elegantly furnished booths of the dancers.

As the first note of the music sounded through this garden scene, the Grand March wended its dignified way down the hall, led by President Dudley Crane and Miss Laura Bardwell. The march ceased and the orchestra picked up the strain of "Loyalty" while the dancers changed their march to the quick syncopated movements of the one-step.

The unique feature of the evening was the "Dances of the Seasons", beginning with "Spring" each succeeding dance presented a pleasing surprise which was brought to a climax with "Winter", and closed the program. A snowstorm enveloped the dancers who indulged in a merry snow ball fight while live snow birds flew to cover in the falling flakes.

The eighteenth annual Military Ball was ushered in with real military style by the roar of cannon, the roll of drums, and the blare of trumpets. Hardly had they ceased when the color sergeants presented the Brigade colors, after which with military precision the Grand March was started. The column was led by Cadet Colonel Joseph N. Greene and Miss Laura Wise of Staunton, Virginia, followed by the commissioned officers of the corps and the cadets in their gray and black uniforms.

The Armory had been transformed into a garden of green foliage as a background for a myriad of American flags draped in an artistic fashion. Over each of the twenty-four booths was a great golden eagle on a gilded globe and outlined in colors red, white and blue. It was a fitting setting for the dancers in the cadet gray and braided uniforms and shiny, clanking sabers in contrast to the beautiful gowns of their partners.

Throughout the entire program of twenty-two dances the same dignified splendor of military formality prevailed. The caterers had carefully worked out military design in the refreshments which were served between the eleventh and twelfth dances. The ball was a delightful occasion in every respect and testified to the well directed efforts of Colonel Greene and Major Elles.

Review of the Championship Football Season of 1914

The 1914 football season in the west has been one of the most interesting and spectacular ever witnessed in the Conference. The orange and blue squad won a clear and undisputed title by their decisive victories over the six Conference gridiron teams which they encountered. From the start of the season along in September, there was a feeling that the Indians would finish the season among the first, under the teachings of the mentor coach, Robert C. Zuppke. It has been the hope of every Illinois undergraduate and alumnus to see the Illini football team standing alone at the top of the conference rating. The 1914 football team accomplished what Illinois baseball and track teams have been doing for some time. With Zuppke's promise to remain with us for five years, prospects for the future are indeed bright.

The football men gathered on the Illinois field on the fifteenth day of September. They were all in the prime of physical condition and totaled thirty-three in number, twelve of whom had won their letter the year previous. Captain Chapman kept them busy and they were soon running through last year's signals. On the twenty-first of September Zuppke and Lindgren appeared on the field, and started in earnest the task of training and picking the team. The first game of the season was October the third against Christian Brothers College of St. Louis. The Catholics had a good team and though the Illini beat them by a score of 33 to 0, there were still many faults in our playing. However, through it all one could see a combination of fighting spirit and football which could not help but give the Illini backers a feeling of confidence.

ATHLETICS

With a week's hard drill, the followers of Zuppke were ready to meet the team from Indiana. The game proved to be a slow one, for after the referee blew his whistle the outcome of the game was evident. The work of "Potsy" Clark at quarterback deserves special mention. Pogue, who was now playing in the halfback position, clearly showed that he had forgotten none of his last year's cleverness in running with the ball.

Our first football game with the "Buckeye" institution was played October seventeenth. They put up a clean, hard game of football and Illinois was kept on her toes thruout the contest. Perry Graves played his first game of the year at right end, and ran down punts in great style. "Bart" Macomber put up as pretty an exhibition of kicking as has been seen on Illinois Field for many days. His toe was responsible for thirteen points. Pogue made long gains every time he took the ball. Clark directed the team well and cleverly intercepted two forward passes. When the game ended Illinois had run up 37 points to her opponent's none.

After a week of practice, the Indians made their first trip away from home. The game with Northwestern proved to be a shut-out for the Illini, who easily piled up 33 points. "Bart" Macomber played quarterback and made several spectacular runs for touchdowns. "Dutch" Wagner also added six points toward the total when he scored a touchdown from a pass by Bart. The work of Rue stands out prominently, as well as does that of Pethybridge and Real, who were playing their first varsity ball.

The squad of twenty-two players journeyed to Minneapolis the following week, and in the hardest game of the year crushed the Gophers in a 21 to 6 score. The game was fast and hard, and the two teams fought for three quarters and neither were able to score. In the fourth quarter a triple pass, Macomber to Clark to Squier, started things for the Illini and "Cap" carried the ball within five yards of the goal. In the next play Clark dodged thru center for a touchdown. Harold Pogue then pulled off two spectacular runs, each of which ended in a touchdown.

THE CROWD ON THE EAST BLEACHERS

Illinois

ATHLETICS

Two weeks' rest, spent in hard drill, put the team in first-class shape for Chicago. This game was played before the largest crowd ever on Illinois Field. There was intense interest in the outcome of the game for neither team had been defeated. At the end of the first half Chicago was ahead although Zuppke's machine had gained more ground. The Maroon leader had made a beautiful kick which prompted a march through our ranks for their only touchdown. Then Illinois braced, our line became impenetrable, Captain Chapman and Watson played like demons. The Illini uncorked all of the tricks of their budget, while Pogue and Clark brought the stands to their feet with their sensational runs. The game ended with Chicago humbled, leaving the rejoicing Illini with the big end of the 21 to 7 score.

The last game was played at Madison. Interest was high, for it was still necessary for Illinois to defeat the Badgers in order to keep their own slate clean, and to save a triple tie for the Conference Championship. Captain Chapman, Armstrong, Graves, Schobinger, Rue, Wagner, and Derby were serving Illinois for the last time on the gridiron. Pogue gets the credit for making two touchdowns, while Clark in a sensational run through the entire Wisconsin team, scored the third. The game was particularly characterized by the perfect team work of the team which had now gained the much sought for title—The Big Nine Champions.

Too much cannot be said in praise of our coaches, Zuppke and Lindgren. They instilled the "never give up" spirit into every member of the triumphant Illini. The working together of the entire squad to make up a perfect machine was the result of their industry.

ATHLETICS

RALPH DWYER CLINTON CHAPMAN

"Slooe" Chapman, captain of the triumphant Illini eleven of 1914, was the unanimous choice as All Western Guard, and was placed by Walter Camp on his honorary All American team, as the greatest guard of the season. Ralph learned football at Washington, D. C., while attending the Central High School. We know Chapman for his speed, aggressiveness, and fighting spirit. He has been the bulwark of defense in the line and few opponents have succeeded in getting by him. His ability and head work has made him an ideal man for Zuppke's style of open play. With his graduation, Illinois loses a player who has ever been a true sportsman and a peerless leader.

JOHN WESLEY
WATSON

"Jack" is Captain-elect of the 1915 Illinois football machine. He came from De Kalb, and was immediately successful in landing a berth on the Freshman Varsity. His brother was a regular on the Varsity at the time, so football seems to run in his blood. "Watty" has played regularly on the Varsity ever since, and because of his consistent work and spirit, at the close of last season his teammates elected him captain. In his position at center everybody has noticed his "pepper", and we are sure that "Jack" will again pilot "Zup's" Indians through a championship season.

EUGENE SCHOBINGER

After a year on the Freshman Varsity, "Schobe" earned his position as a Varsity regular and has maintained it throughout the three years of his eligibility. He is an all around athlete of no mean ability, for besides being one of the main-stays of Zuppke's champions, he holds a position on the water polo team and has the honor of captaining this year's track team. When a gain of a few yards was necessary, "Gene" was always the man to be relied upon and it was seldom indeed that his weight and speed did not carry him safely through the opposing defense. Of no less importance was the phenomenal manner in which he made interference for the other back field runners. All in all Illinois has had few better fullbacks, and the position left vacant by his graduation will surely be hard to fill.

Illinois

LENNOX FRANCOIS ARMSTRONG

"Army" Armstrong was a student of Zuppke at Oak Park and did not have hard sailing to win his berth on the fast stepping Illini team. He has played two years, first as an end and this year as tackle. Armstrong has the gift of speed and ability to keep on his feet. He was a sure and hard tackler and did not seem to find it hard to get through the opponents' line and nail the runner before he had even started to gain. Armstrong is another senior, whose vacancy will be hard to fill.

ALEXANDER WAGNER

"Cut in" Wagner was one of the hardest fighters and workers on the team. He graduated from University High, and came to Illinois and made good on the 1915 Freshman Varsity, of which he was captain. He has played three years of Varsity football, fighting all the time for his place as half-back. "Dutch" is adept at carrying the pigskin and his twisting and squirming makes him a hard man to catch or hold after once tackled. He is another one of those who have served us for the last time on the gridiron and by his graduation Illinois loses a natural born football player, a hard and consistent worker.

ORLIE RUE

Orlie has been known as the hard luck man of the year. Although half sick most of the time, he came out every day and fought his hardest for the team. He is a very fast player, and dashes down the field giving interference or straight thru an opening in the line for a long gain. He shared with "Schobe" the responsibility of gaining a few yards in case of a much needed fourth down. Orlie is from Mattoon, and spent his first year on the Freshman Varsity. He is another senior we are to lose, and one whose loss will be keenly felt by the students as well as the players, for his determined spirit and unlimited supply of nerve will long be remembered by all loyal Illini.

SYLVESTER RANDALL DERBY

Derby and Squier proved to be an unbeatable combination for left end, and between the two of them the position was handled in great style. Two years of Varsity football had given "Derb" some valuable experience and enabled him to hold down the end position like a veteran. Hard work and determined perseverance characterised his playing throughout the season. The manner in which he ran down under punts and nailed his opponents before they started, was especially evident in the Minnesota game and deserves special mention. "Derb" graduates in June and his loss will be keenly felt by all who are interested in football at Illinois.

Illinois

PERRY HENRY GRAVES

"Pez" is an old Rockford star. He also played on the University of Pittsburg team and was captain of the 1916 Illinois Freshman Varsity. His reputation as being one of the fastest ends at the game was repeatedly demonstrated. He is a small and light player, but his football intuition, and his habit of catching a forward pass as he would a baseball, has made him a favorite among the football fans. In selecting Perry as All Western end, Patterson comments upon him as follows: "Graves of Illinois was the best end in the west. He is faster than the proverbial flash, a sure tackler and a good man at sizing up a play."

GEORGE CLARK

"Potsy" Clark, of Carthage, played a year on the Williams and Vashti team before he came to Illinois. He is the quickest little general in the west and well deserves his laurels as All Western quarterback. His judgment of plays and the time to use them, gave him the absolute confidence of his team-mates. As an open field runner he was the equal of Pogue and somewhere has acquired the peculiar habit of grabbing the ball from a kick off or punt, and then running straight down the field for a touchdown. His ninety yard sprint through the entire Chicago team at Homecoming will never be forgotten by the Illini fans. He will play again next year and his past experience should make him a keystone in next season's success.

HAROLD AUSTIN POGUE

"The greatest open field runner Illinois has yet produced" is the smallest, nerviest, and fleetest player on the team. "Pogue's" first football experience was on a championship high school team down at Sullivan. In his first year at Illinois he played on the championship class team and this year on the undisputed champions of the Conference. From the point of view of the enemy, Harold has one bad habit, for in every conference game in which he has played, he has chalked up at least one touchdown for Illinois. He closes this season with a record of ten touchdowns. Patterson, in making his choice for All Western half-back says: "Pogue is an ideal man for the present game; fast, elusive, and always quick to take advantage of even the smallest openings. He is one of the smartest players of the year, and his eye is always looking for the main chance."

FRANKLIN BARTLETT MACOMBER

"Bart" played his first year of college football in great style. He had gained an enviable reputation on "Zup's" Oak Park championship prep team. Bart did not have any trouble in living up to the dope, and his weight, determination and speed made him a wonderful half-back. His long punts and place kicks always made him feared in the rival camps. His total of scoring 62 points for the season speaks for itself. In the Minnesota game he out-punted Hamilton, the opposing kicker, and again in the Wisconsin game his punts out-distanced those of the veteran, Bellows, whose reputation as a kicker had placed him on last year's All Western. Bart will wear the orange and blue for two years more and much is expected of him.

Illinois

ATHLETICS

MANLEY ROSS PETTY

Ross was one of the largest men on the team and a player of marked ability. He comes to us from Warsaw township High School, and seemed to have little trouble in learning Zup's style of play. Although handicapped by several injuries he refused to become discouraged, and few spectators failed to notice the brilliant work which he has shown in every game that he was able to enter. With one year's varsity experience, and two more years to play, Illinois will not have to worry in regard to how the right guard position is to be played.

GEORGE KASSON SQUIER

"Cap" is a junior in the University and has played his first year of varsity football. He comes to us from Rockford, a town which has a reputation for the contributions it has made to the gridiron. As one of the tallest men on the western gridiron, Squier has made an enviable reputation in receiving forward passes. To "Cap" is given the credit of starting the spurt that was to bury Minnesota and to win for the Indians their hardest fought battle. He is at home on the football field and has never yet failed to outplay every opponent he has encountered. He has figured in all of the All Western selections of the year, and with the experience he has gained he should make a strong bid for All American honors next fall.

FRANK HOWARD PETHYBRIDGE

The half-back position was one of the hardest fought for places on the team this year. Pethybridge, though small and competing with veterans, proved his worth in the Northwestern game. He is very fast and runs low and hard. Such hard work as he has gone through this year will give him invaluable experience in the future. He played on the 1917 freshman team and has two more years to compete for the Indians. With his natural ability and determination, he will finish football as a veteran.

JOHN WARD NELSON

J. Ward was unknown to football followers before this fall, and it was through his hard work and readiness to profit by the teachings of Lindgren and Zuppke, that he developed into a fast, heady, football player. He comes from Industry township high school at Vermont, Illinois, and with two more years of Varsity football ahead of him, he should develop into one of the best players in the Conference.

FRANK STEWART

Frank Stewart is another player to glide from the freshman Varsity ranks into a place on the Illini Varsity. Frank is endowed with both speed and weight. These two points combined in proper proportion are a great help to any football player, and especially to a guard. Stewart was the heaviest player on the team, and it was seldom indeed that any of his opponents got thru or around him. He played like a veteran all season, and will be a firm plank in "Bob's" football platform for next year.

OLAV MADSEN

Madsen is the only man who won his "I" on this year's team who is not a native son of Illinois. He hails from Litchfield, Minnesota, where he starred on the local high school team. He played on the Freshman Varsity of 1916, where he first learned the Illini motto of "never say die." He fights from start to finish. He is a large, heavy man, quiet and fearless, and plays with a dash that is felt and long remembered by his opponents. "OI" has convincingly demonstrated his worth, and next year should prove a stellar player.

Review of 1914 Season

The record of the University of Illinois varsity baseball team for 1914 was one of the most peculiar ever presented by an athletic team representing the University. About the middle of April "the boards of strategy", located in the favorite loafing places about the Twin Cities, had handed down the ultimatum that Illinois would make a poor tail-end. But 1914 was a year of miracle baseball teams and Illinois seems to have been destined to introduce this custom; for from a losing team in April, through the untiring efforts of the men in the uniforms and their everlasting spirit of fight, and under the marvelous tutelage of the peer of coaches, "Gee" Huff, a baseball team was developed that was able to bring home the Conference championship on the 29th of May.

The season was started with a trip to the "Sunny South" after but a few days of outdoor practice and with a squad of a few veterans and an abundance of recruits. Although some of the scores of the games in the South were not pleasant to remember, nevertheless these games provided the important test to the material and pointed out the places where the team should be strengthened before the start of the Conference schedule.

Upon return the team was entirely reorganized, the weak places were strengthened, and a routine of strenuous practice put into effect. The Conference season was opened with a victory over the Methodists at Evanston. Then came the first game on Illinois Field with Millikin University, in which the Illinois team defeated the visitors from Decatur by a score of 8-5. With "Bunny" Gunkle in the box for the first time on Illinois Field, Minnesota was disposed of by a score 4-3; and but a few days later Capt. Phelps' followers defeated the Boilermakers on the Purdue diamond. This was followed by two of the prettiest games of the season, namely, the games with the University of Texas. Although the Texans lost both games, they played an excellent variety of baseball. After handing Purdue another defeat, the Illini journeyed to Madison, where in a hard fought tussle they defeated the Badgers.

ATHLETICS

During Interscholastic, before record breaking crowds, the Illini shared honors with Chicago; taking one game from Northwestern, and allowing the Maroons a victory, even though "Slip" Cogdall was hitting in true Ty Cobb style. This was followed by a slump in team work and batting by the Orange and Blue team, during which they dropped one game with the Hoosiers and another with Wisconsin, both on the home grounds.

Thus, the outlook for winning the final game with the Maroons was not the most encouraging. Chicago was by all odds the favorite—by many they had been conceded the Championship. The afternoon of the game was another great discouragement because of a rainstorm that started about one thirty. The diamond would have been an admirable spot to stage a water polo contest; but nevertheless the game was started. Illinois scored the first run only to have it taken away because the umpire changed his decision. This seemed to put more fight into the team and they played as never before during the season. Halas pitched an extraordinary game, and even though the diamond was conducive to errors Capt. Phelps' men played errorless ball. When the last man was out in the second half of the ninth inning the score board showed that the Illini had triumphed by a score of 4-3; Coach Huff's men had succeeded in bringing the Championship of the Western Intercollegiate Athletic Conference back to their Alma Mater.

ATHLETICS

JOHN CARNE PHELPS

"Butts" captained the Illini Baseball team through what proved to be a very successful season, resulting as it did in another Conference Pennant for Illinois. The more one knows about baseball, the more one can appreciate the way that John played the game. He knew inside baseball and showed that he knew it at all times. Opposing teams were aware of his speed and hitting ability, as was evidenced by the fact that when he came to bat, the opposing infielders would play in close and the outfield would play back. He was always taking his opponents unawares, however, and when the season closed he had many well placed hits marked up to his credit.

HARRY FRANK COGDALL

"Slip" will pilot the promising Illini Team for the 1915 season. Illinois fans are sure the job is in safe hands, for there is no doubt about "Slip's" ability around the keystone sack. His diminutive height combined with his characteristic patience makes him the hardest man to pitch to in the entire conference. In a practice game at Pontiac he made the unique record of working the pitcher for seven free passes out of seven times at bat. Although "Rabbit" walks frequently, few pitchers deem it advisable to throw them in the groove.

FRANK MILTON BANE

One can not help but admire a fellow who can, in spite of a late start and a wearing season of basketball, take up baseball and go through the entire season with a batting average of .281 per cent and field around the first sack to the tune of 1000 per cent. Bane has every qualification of a first sacker and we have yet to find an infielder who can throw a ball either over or under him. Frank should prove a source of trouble for every pitcher in the Conference next season.

IRA LEON RUSH

Ira could not find his batting eye at the beginning of the season, but somehow while the team was down south he made a more thorough search, and when the boys came back he was already to accept a permanent berth at short-stop. His batting is far beyond the average. He not only gets the wood behind the ball but also his entire weight which accounts for his wicked drives through the infield. Ira has another season before him and we are looking for him to repeat.

ATHLETICS

WALTER HENRY HALAS

Mr. Huff recognized some possibilities in Walter as a pitcher soon after the indoor season had commenced, and started "Wee" McGill working with him. "Wee" succeeded in developing a pitcher of no mean ability out of "Hally". During the season he was called upon to bear the heavy work of the pitching staff, and he stood up well under the responsibility, pitching exceptionally fine ball at all times. As a fitting climax to his eventful season, "Hally" had the honor of winning the deciding game of the year played at Chicago.

PERRY HENRY GRAVES

Perry rounded into form at a very critical time in the season,—just when the position at third base was left vacant because of Krebs' injury. He seemed primed for the occasion, however, and assumed the responsibility in a very creditable manner. In fielding he is as quick as a flash, and covers more than his allotted share of territory. His cleverness with the bat and his speed were a big factor in winning the deciding game with Chicago. If the season breaks a little sooner next spring, Perry should strike his stride several weeks earlier and prove to be of considerable service to the team.

JOHN THOMAS BRADLEY

Mr. Huff was exceedingly fortunate in being able to fill up the position left by Charley Fletcher's graduation, with this star of near-Major League caliber. Jack stepped into the backstop position and handled it like a veteran. Illinois fans enjoy watching Bradley work behind the bat. Our pitchers have a world of confidence in him, and many an opposing base-runner has been surprised and paralysed by his unexpected and accurate pegs to the bases.

DOUGLAS McROBIE

"Doug" is a catcher by trade and many of us thought that he and Bradley would work alternately behind the bat. This was not the case, however, for "G" soon saw that "Doug's" hitting made him too valuable a man to keep on the bench for even half of the time. "Mac" is a fighter from the start to the finish and possesses a brand of confidence which is badly needed in other departments of our team. He starts out with a determination to win which lasts until the last ball is thrown. He is known among the boys as the founder of the "Up-and-at-em" League.

Illinois

ATHLETICS

LEON ARBUCKLE

"Deak" is a natural born fielder. He covers acres of ground and is able to get the ball back to where it came from in the least possible time. When it comes to a pinch you will find that he is the one man who can be depended upon for the required hit. His hits although never very long, are hard and frequent. Right at the close of the season "Deak" suffered a slump in his batting, but now that its all over and we know that he has got it out of his system, we are expecting great things of him during the 1915 season.

WODDWARD WILLIAM GUNKEL

"Red" is a pitcher of the first water and those of us who saw him work in his freshman year were chuck full of expectations. For some unexplainable reason all pitchers have their off seasons, and it seems that "Red's" turn came last season. He delivers goods of a great variety, everything from an awful slow one to a wicked spit ball. Last season he was unable to keep them out of the groove, but this year when these assortments begin bending over the corners, Woodward's work ought to bear pretty close inspection.

WILBUR KREBS

After shifting him all over the infield, "G" finally decided that third base was the place for Krebs. In all of the other positions he fielded the ball too fast. Third base is the one place where a fielder does not have to wait very long for a ground ball, and here "Wib" proved a success for, as "Wee Willie" said, he "didn't have to hunt for the handle." His never failing "pepper" and constant noise always worked wonders for the team. This year Krebs ought to have a phenomenal season.

Review of the 1914 Track Season

It is very seldom that Coach John Moakley of Cornell University waxes enthusiastic, and rarer still that he indulges in words of praise, but in a letter to Coach Gill last year, Moakley cast aside his usual nonchalance momentarily and climbed to a dizzy height (for him) when he said, "You have a wonderful track team."

The Illinois track team for 1914 was, indeed, a remarkable one. It was a superbly balanced outfit, yet it possessed its stars in nearly every event. Captain Sanders' men with equal ease mowed down its opponents in dual meets, relay carnivals, and Conference championships. During the course of the season eleven records were shattered, two equalled and one world's record tied.

The preliminary tryouts for the team did not indicate that the Orange and Blue was to be represented by the strongest aggregation in its history. On the contrary, it was thought that Illini prestige on the cinder path was due for a severe rebuff. Nevertheless, the rooters and members of the squad had explicit confidence in the ability of Coach Gill to handle the situation. As the season advanced, the team made steady improvement, ending finally on June 6 in the complete rout of all adversaries in the Conference Meet.

Before the opening of the regular indoor season, Coach Gill in response to an invitation from the First Regiment of Chicago to meet Notre Dame in a match one mile relay, selected Goelitz, Tapping, Henderson and Sanders to humble the redoubtable South Benders. This quartet proved equal to the occasion and succeeded in establishing a new Central A. A. U. record at the same time.

Seeking new fields for conquest, Illinois made arrangements to bring Ohio State, recently initiated members of the "Big Nine" to Urbana for a dual meet. The victory over the Buckeyes was decisive, the score being 59 to 19. Then the reign of fire and pestilence began. A trip to St. Louis had to be cancelled when the headquarters of the Missouri Athletic Club was ruined by fire. The scarlet fever scare resulted in the calling off of meets carded with Purdue and Chicago. Despite this handicap of lack of competition, the "Indians" captured the Indoor Conference by a wide margin. The Illini contingent won first place in five out of the ten events, and in every event, one or more wearer of the Orange and Blue figured in the money.

With indoor honors safely stowed away, the team entered the campaign for outdoor laurels with added zest. Early in April, Coach Gill conceived the idea of entering four relay teams in the Drake Carnival. Anything approaching this by one institution had never been attempted, in fact, most of the schools considered it a stupendous task to enter even two fairly creditable squads. At Drake, Illinois was to contest with a host of schools who would all practically concentrate their strength in one relay team. Notwithstanding this, Illinois accomplished, what in Gill's opinion was the greatest feat in its track history, by winning two of the events and finishing a close second in the other two.

With these glorious victories as inspiration, the Illini crushed all opponents in their dual meets with telling effect. Purdue, Wisconsin, and Chicago all bowed before the tremendous strength of the Illinois cinder path giants. A remarkable feature of the Purdue contest was the placing of 27 Illini entrants out of a total of 28 participants. The sport writer on the Chicago papers bemoaned the poverty of the English language in attempting to find adequate words to eulogize the triumph of Illinois in the Outdoor Conference. In a field of over 25 institutions, Illinois succeeded in practically doubling the score of its closest rival.

A review of the track season for 1914 would hardly be complete without mention of the wonderful work of Captain "Kink" Sanders and his remarkable team-mate "Alabam" Henderson. Although the acknowledged champion in his event, Sanders led his team without braggadocio, always being the first to make sacrifices when the welfare of the team could be advanced. During the progress of the season he broke the indoor record in the quarter and equalled the outdoor one. His victory over Haff at the Penn Games will live long in Illini track annals.

But it remained for Henderson to create for himself the title of being the greatest Illini track star. His early development was slow, but he was determined to succeed, and he expressed this resolution by practicing with consistency and unswerving fidelity. In the Conference Meet last June, Henderson closed his career by capturing two events beside running on the winning relay team; won the individual point prize; and broke the only record of the meet and that was the wonderful Davenport's mark in the half mile.

It was this spirit of determination and perseverance, coupled with a willingness to sacrifice everything for the welfare of the team as exemplified in the career of these sterling athletes, which makes Illini success in the track world possible.

EUGENE SCHOBINGER

Captain Schobinger is unquestionably one of the greatest college all-around athletes in the country today. He can dash and hurdle, jump, or throw the weights with equal ease. At Illinois "Gene" has specialized in the pole vault and shot. Despite his massive bulk, Schobinger is the leading western pole vaulter. He is at his best when pushed, and as such ought to make an ideal leader for a team which hopes to win the Spalding trophy for three consecutive Conference championships.

ANDREW BAKER HAMMITT

"Andy" Hammitt, better known as the Des Moines Flyer, came unheralded, but quickly forced his way to recognition. In his sophomore year he won fame as winner of the classic one hundred yard dash in the Conference meet. An injury received last season prevented him from duplicating his meritorious feats, but this year he is out to regain his former laurels.

CHARLES HAWLEY TAPPING

"Hank" didn't think that he could run. No one else did either, in fact, they didn't think he had enough "get-up", but along came a little sunshine and the world was fooled. Consistent practice and hard work brought Tapping from obscurity to a crack athlete. With such a wonderful team-mate as "Alabam" Henderson, Tapping's star was somewhat eclipsed, but this season he intends to personally accomplish astronomical phenomena.

LEON DEMING TILTON

There are not many men who can stay out of the athletic game for a number of years, and then make a "come-back." Leon Tilton is among these select few. Besides, he tackled a new event, the low hurdles, and at the Conference meet was able to rank among the leaders of the western college world by landing the bronze medal.

JOHN LATIMER McKEOWN

"Laddy" McKeown is destined to become one of the most-talked-about athletes who ever wore an Orange and Blue track suit. For when ardent admirers of Coach Gill seek to drive home his efficacy, they point to McKeown as an tangible example. The art of high hurdling is perhaps the most difficult track event to master, yet Gill took "Laddy," who never before had leaped a high stick, and in one season developed him into the undisputed champion of the Middle West.

GUY HAROLD HUSTED

It isn't every man who can break an Illinois record in his initial debut as a varsity candidate, but the "Roodhouse Demon" was a wonder at hurling his avoirdupois into space for great distances. Handicapped by an injury to his hip, nevertheless Husted never faltered, and succeeded in winning many points for his team, although every jump would cause him to twitch his face in pain.

ELMER ALLEN CLAAR

There are some who claim that "Willie" is eccentric, and in that list is Mr. Spee D. Spurt, but what normal man can high jump a height greater than his own? Although not a star himself, he has forced stars to make desperate efforts to take the first place ribbons from him. Despite his lightness, Claar has added many points in the discus.

JULIAN LOUNSBURY FISH

Practically on the eve of his entrance into varsity competition, Julian was forced to leave the stage because of an attack of appendicitis. Since his re-entrance, Fish has been successful in winning a cherished letter, and is on the high road to a complete recovery of his old time speed and form.

WILLIAM HENRY GOELITZ

"The man who performed the gamest feat known in Illini track annals". This is the label attached to "Bill" Goelitz after his remarkable performance at the Penn Relay Games last year, in which he ran almost a half mile on a cinder path with a gashed heel and with only one shoe, and thus made it possible for his team to win a championship of America. All of Goelitz's work is characterized by this same kind of grit and determination.

JOHN HOLLY RAPP

"If at first you don't succeed, try, try, again." John H. Rapp illustrates this homely proverb beautifully. For two long years he plugged, persistently and doggedly, at first without any apparent success, but finally reaching that tantalizing goal which embryonic half-milers hold most dear, namely, two laps in less than two minutes.

NEWTON ANTHONY WRIGHT

"Snooky" spent his freshman year at Illinois, made the yearling team and then went to California. After a year's absence, he returned, and it appears that the balmy western breezes produced wonderful effects, for in the space of one year "Snooky" succeeded in breaking both the indoor and outdoor records in the one mile run. Wright is also proficient in cross country jaunting.

ORLIE RUE

"The hard-luck athlete of the University." Orlie's athletic career has been sorely handicapped by injuries and ailments. As a football player, injuries have kept him from shining as brightly as he should. He was a star broad jumper, yet a sprained thigh prevented him from even participating in that event. Rue's contribution to the track team was in the discus throw, in which he performed well.

Two Mile Relay Championship Team of America

The feats of Illinois' two mile relay team were hardly less remarkable than that of its famous predecessor—"The Immortal Quartet", Cortiss, Henderson, Hunter, Sanders. True, they did not break a world's record, but they did equal one, and spread afar the Illini fame by capturing the Western and National title in the two mile event.

At the Drake Relay Carnival, the quartet handicapped by a slow, wet track ran in perfect form and tied the world's mark for the distance, travelling the two miles in 8:00. This splendid showing earned them the privilege of going to Pennsylvania. Here they were to meet the fast Michigan team which had never as yet tasted of defeat.

The gameness with which the Illini fought their way to victory on that day will never be forgotten. How "Bill" Goelitz with one shoe torn from his foot by his opponents' spikes, resolutely stuck to the race, how Tapping pluckily took up the baton; how "Alabam" Henderson unyieldingly made up most of the lost distance; how "Kink" Sanders with an irresistible burst of speed at the finish brought the "Championship of America" to Illinois; these things will ever live in Illini athletic history.

Cross Country Team

Although the 1914 cross country team was by far the best that was ever developed at Illinois, yet its achievements hardly measure up to that of the 1913 aggregation. The answer to this apparent paradox is simple. While the Illini possessed sufficient talent to capture nine out of ten Conference Meets, in 1914 Coach Gill's distance men ran into a tenth year, and were forced to bow down to the remarkable strength of Minnesota and Ames.

Prospects for a winning aggregation looked bright when Illinois scored a complete slam in a dual meet with Indiana, but chilled perceptibly when it was learned that Minnesota had turned the same trick in faster time. In the Conference Meet at Lafayette on November 22, Illinois finished third in a field of ten teams—a very gratifying result ordinarily, but the championship bee was buzzing in the ears of the Illini and nothing but a crown would have been entirely satisfactory.

As was expected, "Mike" Mason was the leading performer. In the Conference run, he finished a close second to Watson of Minnesota, who established a new record for the five miles. Wright, Wray, Burgoon, Billman, and Minnis all showed improvement over their last year's form. Gantz, a Champaign product, altho a new-comer, shows promise of developing into a star.

Review of the Championship Season of 1915

RALPH JONES, Coach

In 1912 Ralph Jones came to Illinois as basket ball coach. Close followers of the game have since that time watched the Illinois basket ball team rise from a state of mediocrity to that of the best team in the Conference. The rise of Illinois in basket ball has been phenomenal and the entire credit is given to our great "little" coach. Too much credit can not be given Jones for his work. As a fitting honor he has taken his seat in the Hall of Fame provided for all Illini coaches who have produced 1000% teams.

The 1914-15 basket ball season was a great success. Jones' combination of speed and endurance, called by many "the fastest team in the country", was beyond all doubt the best ever developed at Illinois. At the beginning of the season two new faces appeared in the line up. The team was intact from the preceeding year, but the pace set by the sophomores was too fast for the veterans and the famous Woods twins fought their way to regular positions.

Working smoothly and confidently at all times the team swept all their opponents before them and came through the season with a 1000% record.

Following is the schedule:

Dec. 9—Arkansas Aggies, at Urbana.....	6-52
Dec. 12—Illinois Wesleyan, at Urbana.....	9-50
Dec. 18—Milliken, at Decatur.....	16-19
Jan. 2—Peoria Tigers, at Peoria.....	14-27

ATHLETICS

SVEN DUNER

Captain Duner showed the right playing spirit for the leader of a strong, steady team. In his position at standing guard he was the backbone of the Illinois plays and the strength of the defense. He had a knack of getting his fingers on the ball, and used that ability to advantage in the team work. His dashes past the center down to the basket for a goal will long be remembered by the basketball enthusiasts. Sven surprised his friends and teammates in his final year by becoming one of the most talkative men on the team, thus fulfilling Jones' prophecy that "if he can only get 'Noisey' to talk he will become one of the best players in the Conference". This was Duner's last year of varsity basketball. The team will lose in him their strongest defensive man and most experienced player.

E. ALLAN WILLIFORD

Williford, captain of last year's team, played at his old position of forward during his final season of college basketball. His versatility on the floor and consistent, hard playing has brought the team through many difficult games. "Willie" was one of the strong units of snappy teamwork; around him was centered Coach Jones' complicated system of plays. He showed marked defensive ability, and could always be counted upon to get the ball at center. Handicapped as he was by an injury during the first of the season, he came back and in the final games played the best basketball of his career.

ATHLETICS

FRANK BANE

Frank Bane, the find of last year, was a big factor in the showing made by the team this year. Perhaps no player has been watched with so much interest by the fans in his development as the "Colonel". Two years under Coach Jones has increased his ability as a jumper and a good all around team man. Getting the ball in the region of the basket with room for one of his gigantic steps he is always good for a goal. Bane is the third member of the quintet who graduates this year; he will leave a hard place to fill, not only on the team but also in the hearts of all Illinois rooters.

RAY WOODS

Of the freshmen varsity material who stepped into varsity togs this year, Ray Woods proved to be one of the most valuable additions to the team. Close guarding and speed won for him a position on the Illinois five. As a defensive man he was equally effective against both tall and short. Ray's eye for baskets during this last season was not so good as it was during his freshmen and high school days. However, some long shots of his at the end of the season gave promise of returning accuracy at hitting the basket.

ATHLETICS

RALPH WOODS

Ralph Woods, a twin edition of his brother Ray, but somewhat smaller and faster, has shown remarkable promise during his first year. His speed and "pep" started the games going with the first whistle. Ralph's size has counted against him as a defensive player, but his offensive ability and eye for the basket have made him one of the heaviest scorers on the team. He has proved to be one of the hardest men to guard in the Conference and shows promise of making a record in college which will equal his reputation in prep school days.

CLYDE ALWOOD

Clyde Alwood and Ralph Woods, slated for forwards, were a happy combination. All that Ralph lacked in size seemed to be added on to "Ham". Besides continuing to grow Alwood has played a good game of first year varsity basket ball. He is an accurate passer and a fast man on the floor. Like Bane, he is dangerous under the basket and has a good eye for the goal. With two years of college basket ball before him Alwood should develop into one of the strongest forwards in the West.

Aquatics

The development of the swimming team during the season was wonderful. From losing dual meet contenders, Coach Manley developed his men so that they were warm contestants for the Conference Championship at Northwestern; and not until the last event was swum off, was it discovered that Illinois had lost the championship to Northwestern by a single point.

The brightest star on the team was A. P. McDonald, Jr., who had never plunged before he came to Illinois, but who succeeded in breaking the Conference record in his sophomore year, by clipping two seconds from the time of J. P. Lichter, a former Illini. It was necessary for Captain-elect Griffin to step into the position left vacant by the graduation of Vosburg, and he succeeded exceedingly well. He and Green did most of the sprinting and distance work. Captain Beaumont met very keen competition in his events—the breast and back strokes. The swimmers won the dual meet with Wisconsin and lost to the M. A. C. at St. Louis, to Northwestern, and to Chicago.

In water polo the Coach and men were forced to learn the new game of Basket Water Polo, and to leave the old American game that was so popular with the spectators. The game was invented at Northwestern, so it is little wonder that Northwestern finished in the lead. Captain-elect Lansche is expecting to lead his men to a Conference Championship, and, with the good prospects in swimming to complete the Cycle of Illini Conference Championships. Captain Clements and Moir were the only two of the regulars of the polo team to graduate. With Fisher, Krug, Mooney, McCluggage and Lansche back, Coach Manley expects to build up a winning aggregation, and he will be aided by the addition of several men from last year's strong freshman varsity.

Gymnastics

In gymnastics for the year 1913-1914, Coach R. N. Fargo worked with a team composed of the following men: H. V. Orr, '14 (Capt.); P. J. Sweeney, '15; R. M. Kamm, '16; E. G. Bucher, '15; P. J. Nilsen, '15; P. E. Buck, '14; H. L. Fisher, '14; N. F. Brunkow, '14. At the twelfth annual meeting of the Western Inter-Collegiate Gymnastic Association, held at Chicago on April 4, 1914, Illinois took third place with a score of 947.75 points. Wisconsin was second with an even 1000 points, while Chicago captured the Conference title with a score of 1103.5 points. At the close of the season P. J. Nilsen, '15, was elected captain, and the prospects are bright for a winning aggregation this year.

WALTER EVANS, Coach

Coach Theodore Paulsen of the season 1913-1914 was not able to get much competition for his wrestlers. In their dual meet with Indiana, the Conference Champions, the Illini lost in all but one weight; J. R. Cummins having won the 175 pound match. The team was composed of Glen Schroeder, '14, Capt. (135 pound class); John Cutler, '14 (145 pound class); and J. R. Cummins, '16 (175 pound class).

At the Conference meet held at Chicago on April 4, 1914, J. R. Cummins gained a fall in four minutes in the final bout. He is the present holder of the Conference title in the 175 pound class. H. D. Strong, '14, also deserves attention, but because of his light weight he was not allowed to compete in the Conference.

Walter Evans, a professional wrestler, was hired to coach the Illini for the season 1914-1915. If good coaching will make a team, Illinois should return the victor at this year's Conference meet which is to be held at Lincoln, Nebraska, in April. Conference weights have been changed so that now they are 125, 135, 145, 158, 175 pounds and heavy weight. This makes room for six men on the team and should encourage more men to come out for this sport.

Review of 1913-1914 Season.

In these war times, one turns to a more violent mode of self-defense than that given in his own hands. It may be of interest to the belligerently inclined to know that there is no better place in the West than Illinois to learn the art of fighting with the sharp and pointed instruments of warfare.

Coach Pengilly and Capt. Schurecht were able to develop one of the best teams Illinois has ever possessed. The team consisted of Capt. Schurecht, Griffin, and Van Natter. In their dual meets, the Illini were highly successful, defeating the Badgers at Madison and later the C. A. A. at Chicago. Their only dual meet loss was to the Maroons at Chicago.

In the Conference meet held at Chicago on April 4, 1914, the Illini were able to come into their old form and to make a clean sweep of the Championships. Capt. Schurecht won both foil and dueling Championships and Griffin was judged first in the broad sword event.

Although both Schurecht and Griffin graduated last June, the prospects for the present season are very favorable, and Capt.-elect Van Natter has great hopes of winning this year's Conference meet, which will be held at Lincoln, Nebraska, in April.

In tennis Illinois has won a place among the leading colleges of the middle west. Our double team, composed of Buhai and Moses, won their way into the finals at the Conference meet. They were defeated in a hard fought match for the championship by Squair and McNeal of Chicago. Captain Claflin was a veteran indeed, having been on the Varsity team for four years. Although somewhat erratic at time, when he was "right" his game was practically unbeatable. Salazar, a Mexican, was a whirlwind performer whose only fault lay in a tendency to be a bit "wild" at the critical moments. Captain-elect Buhai and "Bob" Moses both played a hard, consistent game throughout the season, and their splendid teamwork made them a formidable combination in the doubles. As both these men will be with us again next year, prospects are very bright for a championship team.

Golf is becoming one of the most popular sports at the University of Illinois. The membership, for which the fee is one dollar a semester, is larger than it has ever been before, with a total of one hundred twenty-one. At present the Association has a nine hole course on which "par" is 39 and "Bogey" is 41. The record for the course is 35. Plans are being formed for the extension of the links to an eighteen hole course and this will mean a moving of the location altogether as the Agricultural Department has the present links so surrounded that they cannot be extended. The Association is identified with the Western Golf Association and also with the Intercollegiate Golf Association which is centered in the East. There is some hope of sending a team to the tournament of this Association to be held at Princeton this year.

On May 7, 1914, a team composed of E. C. Prouty, '14; J. C. Whitelaw, '15, and F. H. White, '16, met Wisconsin in a dual meet at Madison. The Illini were returned victors by a score of 5 to 3.

In the annual fall tournament held in 1914, Howard Walton, '17, was the champion of the University, and J. M. Simpson, '17, was the runner up. The fall tournament is exclusively student competition as are also the intercollegiate matches.

Negotiations are being made with Conference schools for dual meets and one will probably be scheduled with Chicago or Wisconsin. Although the team will feel the loss of E. C. Prouty, '14, former Cook County champion; with H. R. Walton, '17; J. C. Whitelaw, '15; F. H. White, '16; C. P. Winters, '15, and R. H. Olson, '15, eligible, the Illini expect to make a good showing against any opponents they may have.

Class Athletics

GUY ENNIS MCGAUGHEY
Manager of Class Athletics

The system of class athletics was introduced in 1912, for the purpose of stimulating class spirit and rivalry. The Athletic Association desires at all times to further the interest in class athletics and to reach those men who are unable to participate in Varsity competition, and to give to them the advantages of a large field of athletic competition which they otherwise would not obtain. In several cases it has been demonstrated that Varsity material is likely to exist in the various class teams—both Chapman and Pogue were found in this manner.

Soccer Football was introduced to the members of the University, and at once leaped into such popularity that its continuance as a class sport is insured.

With the added facilities in the new armory and on the south campus several other new sports will probably be introduced, thus giving everyone an opportunity to engage in some branch of athletics.

Class Football

The Class Football championship was ever in doubt until the Referee's whistle announced the victory of the Juniors over the Sophomores in the final game. The season was exceptional in the fact that never before have four teams so evenly matched battled for the Class Championship. Each of the four teams had men who were always dependable in advancing the ball and a bulwark of strength in all departments of the defensive game. The Juniors finished first, with the Sophomores as runners-up, while the Freshmen were a close third, placing the Seniors in the last position. However, this does not show the comparative strength of the four teams. The Illini Sporting Staff, after much deliberation picked the following men for the All Class teams:

Inter Fraternity Athletics

BOWLING TROPHY

To the Pan-Hellenic Association credit must be given for the standard of excellence which inter-fraternity athletics have attained. Friendly rivalry has always been shown in these inter-fraternity contests, but never was it more plainly evidenced than during the past year.

The Inter-Fraternity Bowling Tournament from every angle must be pronounced a success. So close were the matches that it was not until the last ball had crashed down the alley and the last pin slowly toppled over, that interest waned. Individual honors for 1913-1914 were to Don Gamble, who had the highest average for eighteen games. Close to his heels was Kenneth Buchanan, second by the fraction of a point. Fraternity division winners were Delta Kappa Epsilon in the first division; Theta Delta Chi in the second division; and Delta Tau Delta in the third division. The finals were rolled on April 21st. By scoring 2615, and incidentally establishing a new alley record, Theta Delta Chi was easily first. Delta Tau Delta was second with 2402, and Delta Kappa Epsilon third with 2390. Richardson of Theta Delta Chi, with an average of 202 for the three games, was the star of the finals.

Everything that has been said as to the success of the bowling tournament can be applied in even a greater degree to the Inter-Fraternity Baseball League. Close and hard fought were the games, and even though the conditions under which they were played were not always favorable, excitement continually ran high. At the close of the season the following were the division winners: Alpha Delta Phi, Theta Delta Chi, and Phi Sigma Kappa. In the first game of the finals the Phi Sigs were defeated by the Alpha Deltas, but in the deciding game between the Theta Deltas and the Alpha Deltas, eleven innings were played to a tie. Finally, as darkness was fast falling over Illinois Field, a coin was tossed to determine who should have possession of the first place cup. This the Alpha Deltas won, and the second place cup thus fell to Theta Delta Chi.

Above are shown the two baseball cups and the first place bowling cup.

This year's Bowling Tournament gives promise of being equally exciting. As the Illio goes to press, the following fraternities are leading in their respective divisions: Delta Tau Delta in the first division, Sigma Alpha Epsilon in the second division, and Delta Kappa Epsilon in the third division.

Physical Training for Women

The Physical Training Department offers opportunity for swimming, games of all sorts, gymnasium work, and gymnastic dancing. About three-fourths of the girls of the University enter into one form or another of the work offered. During the first semester of this year, eleven girls passed the test for swimming honors, sixty-five learned to swim, and 118 advanced swimmers were registered.

In the fall, the object of the department is to teach each girl some game which she will play for the joy of the sport—something in which she can lose herself. About 170 girls learned tennis last fall, the annual tournament being won by Maida Phoenix.

Golf is another sport which outlives the four years of college life, and which young women may take with them as a splendid recreation for later life. Twenty-four girls learned the principles of the game this year, under rather adverse circumstances. It is hoped that a more adequate golf course may be available some time in the near future.

Last fall, for the first time, two enthusiastic series of hockey games were played. The sophomores of Section C under the leadership of Gertrude Weber, won the section games. The bad weather prevented the completion of the class games in the fall, and these will probably be played off in the spring. The senior team stands first, with Nell Barnes as their captain.

Basketball is always one of the most popular of our sports. Every girl who comes out is put on a team. The attention of the coaches is, therefore, not focused on a few of the best players. There were 89 girls in this year's series of games.

In the gymnastic dancing the class is always crowded. There are 60 registered this year, while about four hundred are taking the regular gymnasium work. Of these, 260 are taking required work.

This year the department has been greatly handicapped because of their small quarters, but are looking forward to the day when Illinois has a new gymnasium adequate to meet the needs of all the women of the University.

Tennis Tournament

In the spring of nineteen fourteen, forty girls registered as entering into the tennis tournament. The matches were all played in singles and at the beginning of the second round there were but twelve girls still in the field. After the fourth round there were three girls: Sophie Rogers, Bernice Wilson, and Maida Phoenix. In the final matches Miss Phoenix was victorious and so won the championship of the tournament.

Here!

Just a Minute

Roast Section

The chances are strong that you will find something in the next forty pages concerning yourself, or interests that are vital to you. You will undoubtedly be stirred up by this to a greater or less degree. If you are inclined to take these things personally I ask you to bear in mind the following: First, to be mentioned at all proves yourself in the lime-light and well enough known to furnish good reading matter. Second, I was given the task of writing a Roast section and not a Y. M. C. A. Hand-book. The University was demanding strong stuff. It has fallen my lot to write it, and to quote the words of the irate father, who with a resounding whang impronged his hand on a thumbtack in the lad's trou—, My boy this hurts me worse than it does you.

But in all seriousness, it has, and nothing could ever tempt me to accept such a task again. I assure you that the things said in the next forty pages are entirely impersonal with me, for I am very sure that there is no one in the University who bears less ill-will against anyone. I have worked on the theory that if everybody was hit, nobody could complain. I hope the theory is workable.

A Trip Through the Underworld

Giving a Hurried Glimpse of Champaign's Vice District

Ladies and gentlemen. Step this way for the big sight-seeing bus—we show you the town, we show you the campus—you see it all and you see it quick. For the nominal price of fifty cents you will absorb nearly as much college gossip as does the average fraternity frosh who flunks out the first semester. We do not, however, attempt to divulge any sorority skeletons, as our stand-in with the women must be preserved at all costs, so the Pi Phis may wheedle their drinks out of the University men and the Kappas may continue to allow Laura Bardwell the freedom of the kitchen every night without fear of being disclosed by us. All aboard—hang on to your hats, and the bus starts right away.

BROTHER HERSMAN

Iris Club

We are just pulling away from the Iris house, my friends, which is the home of the Champaign Law and Order League. Whenever the Urbana Christian Endeavor becomes too gay about the campus, the Council of Administration points with pride to the Iris club as an example of a well ordered fraternity. Still the men's privileges are not curtailed to such a great extent. They are allowed to go to all the Y. M. C. A. meetings, after which they may play checkers, chess, or authors, just as they prefer, providing, of course, that they retire by nine-thirty. Last year a gay young freshman of some thirty-five summers started to chew gum in the house, but the more sedate members were quick to settle the ruffian. Brother Hersman, whom you see in the door-way, has just read the thought for the day, and the seraph quartet has rendered "It's a Long Way, My God, to Thee," so they will file back into the monastery and smoke their favorite brand of cubebs. We are now rolling down the street called Green, famous from the poor farm to the golf links.

P.A.D. and Chi Phi

On our left we see the white front with the letters P. A. D. on the door. It is a den of vice and the home of the ornery Lawless Fraternity. You may know some of its members, but we doubt it. The corner house on the right, however, is a place of interest to all. This is where the Chi boys eat, drink, and cut classes. Look out for the ball, madam. These lads are strong for playing catch in front of the house, as that is considered regular frat stuff. The man who is now delivering the pill is Swede Westlund. Swede is a varsity baseball man, and went through the Conference season last year with only two errors. He fell off the bench in the Chicago game and forgot to bring String Thomas a chew at Minneapolis. Hide your eyes, ladies. Here comes Johnnie Silkman, and he seems to be under the influence of Coke Ras. Never mind, Eddie Block will take care of him. Eddie and Johnnie have both been there before.

Psi U. and D. U.

Look across the street, brothers and sisters, and you will see where the Psi Us. are sleeping theirs off. When they wake up, they will assemble in Skibbo's room for an eye-opener. For further information regarding these beer hounds, I refer you to the first 997 pages of the thousand-page report of the Society for the Prevention of Drunkenness and its By-products. Still, it doesn't seem like the same old house without the famous curly-headed couple, Reber and Wright. Next door is the D. U. gymnasium. Yes, little boy, you are right. This is an awful place for Potsy Clark to have to live, but then he didn't know he was going to be Potsy Clark when he joined.

T. K. E. and Harris's

Oh, goodness! I forgot to show you the Woods' shed on the other side of the street. They call it T. K. E. or D. K. E. I forget which. We are now approaching the University business district. The large store with the awning up, on your left, is Harris and Mead's candy shop. No madam, that man you see in front, by the pop corn wagon, is not the janitor. That's Del Harris, who invented the famous La Vogue chocolates, which have done so much to make Champaign famous, and the University sick. If all these chocolates were at the bottom of the ocean, it would be a good thing for the co-eds and the Junior prom, but pretty hard on the fishes.

Kandy's and Sigma Nu

Next, my friends, you will see Kandy's tonsorial parlor and rough-neck's rest haven. Kandy, who stands behind the first chair, is quite a boy. He can shave you without taking off your collar, and could even give Po Field a haircut without taking off his hat. Burrrrrrmp—Burrrrrrrrmp—Burrrrrrmp, Boom, Boom. Don't cheer, boys, the poor fellow is dying (or should be). Yes, friends, you are all correct. It is Col. Joseph Nathaniel Greene, leading his vast and formidable army. Note his fine, erect bearing, the flash of assurance in his eye and the easy grace of his gait. Well, papa was one before him—No, not a gate—a military man. Joe has a little song that he sings on his way to and from the armory, which runs, "My Mother brought me up to be a Soldier, She didn't seem to want no pride and joy". All we can add is, she didn't get anything thrust upon her. Joe is a member of the Sigma Nuts eating club, whose chief plea to distinction is that they own a couple of lots next to the D. G's.

Illinois

Co-Op

On the left hand corner, you will get a very good view of the Co-op, or University supply store. No, I do not know why it is called Co-op, and neither does anyone else, but what's in a name? Here they sell everything from text books to shoe strings. I've heard that men have been known to buy the latter without getting cheated. Hold on tight, we're going around the corner. Here we catch a glimpse of the college itself. It has many things, however, that you can't see from here, such as the foot-ball team, a dean of men, a reputation, and a Students' Union. Hang on, we're going to turn again.

Sigma Chi

You wouldn't think that they could crowd 649 people into the house ahead of us, but that is the number living in the Sigma Cheese tenement, according to the latest census report. Think of all the fathers with large families that live in these congested quarters. That's Art Odell you see on the front walk. Note the care-worn look on his face. The poor boy is all tired out trying to make the Students' Union presidency amount to something. It certainly is a lot of work to put on one man, but Art is the little fellow that can take care of it. He is on his way now to preside at a meeting of the organization which will probably decide some important University question, such as, "Who shall sell buttons at the next home-coming", or, "How many dances should be played at a cadet hop". See Walton's Sick's out in front. He leaves it there most of the time to give an air of blasé aristocracy to the place, which is very pleasing to Doc Covey and the new pledges.

Illinois

Alpha Tau Omega

The near colonial building across the street is the A. T. O. house. That long-legged boy you see walking thru the yard is String Thomas. Old settlers of the town say that he was quite a ball player in his youth, but he is now way past his prime, and for the last two years has put up a hard fight to hold down the job of Third Benchman. That head stone and fresh mound which you see in the side yard is the spot where they buried the late brother Krug, who was so cruelly sent to his death by Brother Tommy on the tenth of last February. That pompous sophomore, standing in the doorway, is Powers, of Decatur. I would be glad to tell you what great things this man does, but you could get a much more vivid account from him, and he would just love to tell you. The place has but one distinction. Pogue lives here. You will notice that they are putting a sign to that effect in the front yard. Oh, look at Tops Hartford and Bill Ashbeck—Too late now, they've turned the corner.

Picture of Tops Hartford
And Bill Ashbeck going around
The corner.

Phi Gamma Delta

Next door you will note the University mission—no, not the church—the one on the far corner, home of the old Phi Gamma Delta Frat. That's Jerry Rayburn you see sitting at the window with his head in his hands. He is trying to decide whether to fire G. Huff or not. He had better ask Blondy about it. There is a meeting in Joe Pitt's room, discussing the question of what to do with the black sheep Wagner. You have probably heard the popular sorority query, "How did those lovely Phi Gamm boys ever pledge that horrid Mr. Wagner?" The answer is that the symptoms did not break out till his sophomore year, and then it was too late for him to go Delt.

D. K. E.

Friends, I hardly know how to describe the large yellow mansion across the street. You had better all take off your hats and we will proceed slowly. The D. K. E. athletic association, if I remember my facts correctly, was founded by G. Washington, the day after the eventful cherry tree episode. This little fact alone gives a prestige which sets them apart from ordinary fraternity men. A few years after this event, most of the members had to resign for the purpose of crossing the Delaware, and the charter was given up until several big "I" men could be tempted into its midst. A few years ago a man had to be a Deke or a D. U. to hold a locker in the training quarters of our gymnasium. This state of affairs, however, has been greatly relieved of late, so that now it is quite possible for a foot-ball player to get a rub-down without giving the trainer the grip. Freshmen athletes are kept in training by a simple little game called "Chimney-Chimney-Who can climb the Chimney?" or "Polishing the Escutcheon". The Dekes get valuable social experience by attending the exclusive Student Union dances. See Sandy McDonald exercising in the back yard. His neat little trick of falling into the water like a Lincoln Park sea-lion has gained much fame for the organization. Here comes Pethybridge, who won his "I" last fall by playing a star post-season game. Well, an "I" is an "I", and will have to be counted, just like the strikes that Peewee makes at Rock's. Here, here, little boy, you will have to stop making those faces—What? Why, no he didn't. He was just smiling at you. That's Goat Emmond, of Illini fame, and he never made a face at a person in his life. He was just born that way. That's Gip Davis on the front walk. Why no, I don't know why he walks that way, unless he saw Bart Macomber do it first. That would be reason enough for Gip. The man with him is Gunkle. They are a great pair, and the University has prospered and developed to a remarkable extent since these two assumed charge last year. I have heard it rumored, however, in official circles that they have been persuaded to sell the old place to the state and we will soon be able to walk about the campus without feeling that we're overtaxing their generosity and good heartedness. That statue you see in the back yard which so closely resembles an old woman is Bill Bennett. It was given to the Dekes some six or seven years ago and will probably stay with them for several more. At this point in our tour ladies and gents it is customary to submit to the passengers the puzzling enigma, "Why is Gene Schobinger's neck like a typewriter?"—What's that, madam?—I was unable to catch what you said because Gip was whispering something to his friend and your voice was drowned out.—Oh—You said “Underwood”—Correct—Somebody usually gets it right away. We are behind schedule friends, so put your hats on again and we will proceed.

Delta Tau Delta

This humble little bungalow on our right, is the home of Delta Tau Delta, last of the old conservatives. Over the door you will notice the motto, “To H—I with Brother Babcock”. Brother Babcock is the misguided individual who is trying to make a slide rule out of a spigot, figuratively speaking. Even the Delts, however, have of late succumbed to the wave of reform, and are now so cleansed that they drink cider at Interscholastic with only a slight grimace. Time was when the little Japs would fall over in a faint if a guest asked for a glass of water, and some ill-mannered frosh would have to be tubbed for snickering. You will note that they have constructed a bowling alley on the front lawn. They are bound to win that cup next year. Zeke doesn't care much for the idea. He says the weather is apt to be cloudy at this time in the spring. See the youth coming down the walk. He looks for all the world like Vernon, approaching the Castle House, but it is only Wallie, the accomplished sophomore. Eddie will drive up in a taxi from his ten o'clock class soon. How do I know? Can't you see the frosh standing on the curbing, waiting to carry the great man's books into the house?

Kappa Sig. and S. A. E.

You see on your right, friends, the Kappa Sigma house. I am unable to tell you anything concerning these people, whom no one knows, but I have heard that some of them are members in the University. Directly across the street you will see the T. N. E. house. Here they feature such startling freaks of nature as Clark and Junkuntz. Freshmen often stop here for a few days before pledging themselves to some other fraternity. You will note Jack Bradley and Red Burgston on the roof. They are trying to get away from the rest of the gang. We all feel sorry for Jack and Red.

Anybody want to go and see the barbarians in the outlying districts, such as the Zeta Beta Tau Tabernacle, graced by Rabbi Casner, or the Chi Psi Lodge? I thought not—very few people do. What's that, Mister?—You think you must belong to the latter organization, as you belong to most of the lodges? No, my good man, you do not belong to this gang, even though you may be everything from a forty-ninth degree Mason to a second rate Wood-chopper. This is a college man's fraternity, but like Fatimas, the Chi Psis are Distinctively Individual—no gold tips but finest quality. I would like to take you down to see the Phi Psi's, but as Chapman is probably over to the Theta house and George Richmond is out of town for the week end, I'm afraid it would prove uninteresting. The Phi Kap house is also in the same direction, but we had to cut it out of our regular route, as so many passengers mistook it for a railroad station, and began to get nervous about crossing the tracks.

Beta Theta Pi

No, madam, that building on your right is not a dormitory for the under classes, nor is it the state capitol. It is the home of the famous clan of Beta Theta Pi. Within its walls they house three men and sixty-five other Betas. No, I do not know what they do with the rest of their space. The gentleman here on the front row suggests they might herd sheep. It is a den of vice, and contributes very largely to the delinquency of our girls. Every Sunday night they entice innocent young co-eds into their resort and persuade them to partake of their lettuce sandwiches. Brother Phelps of the faculty then entertains with roguish capers and sly pokes in the ribs, after which the entire chapter join in singing "How would you like to be a Beta sweetheart?" During this ceremony, the handsome Bill Jones is placed in the front row, and there are few women indeed who can resist the allurements of this effect. See the little fellow on the side porch. Oh, no, that is not the mascot, that is Gardie Rogers, the "Friend of the Feminine Frosh". The sour look which you see on his face is not entirely his fault. They say that as a child his disposition was spoiled by his playmates, who insisted upon taking his tattling away from him at recess time. Their worst crime, however, is the Campus Scout. A Blatant, Bantling Budget of Bugby's Boneheadedness, which Brother Barlow, the ossified man, inflicts upon us daily.

Zeta Psi

Hang on, ladies, we're going to turn down First street. Look out, Miss, don't flirt with that young man on the corner. He has started many young girls on the downward path, and is just as heartless as he is good looking. That's Paul Whitehead, though I am unable to tell you what he is doing way out here. Ahead of us on our left is the Zeta Psi house, home of Mike Wolter, Captain Watson, and I forget who else. Watson has inaugurated a great fraternity men's reform in the University. Well, he ought to be a good reformer, didn't he spend four years in the reform school?

Phi Delt and Alpha Delt

Here we are back on Green Street, with the Phi Delt house on our left. The Phi Delt's boast of two features: The Mills Automatic Orchestra, and Steve Birch. Next door is the Alpha Delta Phi house. This is the spot where the Bohemians of the College spend a few hours early each morning. The qualifications for membership in this organization are: An inclination toward skimpy trou, and utter disgust for work, a slouch hat at least four years old, and a "Teamster's Delight" sheepskin jacket. I am sorry we will not pass the arcade again, or you could see a chapter meeting in full session. See the cute little tablet on the side of the house. No, this is not a memorial to the ambitious athletic brothers who have failed to annex the coveted "I". Such a tribute would require the whole side of the house. You will notice Eddie, Rube, and Cooper on the front porch, dreaming of what might have been. Do you hear the noise coming out of the third story? That is a freshman telling an upper classman how the place should be run. The Alpha Delt freshmen are the worst trained in the village. They don't believe in tubbing them for fear of hurting their feelings. Oh, look at the boy in the swing, wearing a stiff collar, think of it, a stiff collar, what a relic of barbarism! It must be some rude visitor from the Delta Omega house.

Theta Delta Chi

This shanty across the street, friends, is officially known as the Theta Delta Chi Charge, home of the Illinois gym rats. With the aid of G. Huff and the Phi Gams, this crew manage the athletic end of the University in a very acceptable style. Look around and you will notice some of the lights of the institution. The man with the little cap is Ferguson, who, according to the traditions of the house, supports his family on his honest earnings from the managerial position which he holds with the base-ball team. No, friends, the popular idea that G. Huff is a Theta Delt is entirely wrong. Just because his office usually looks like a chapter meeting of the Charge (whatever that means) is no excuse for the insidious rumor. The Theta Delts' chief delight is recounting the glories of Shorty Kneisley, winner of the coveted Chet Maguire prize. Shorty was some boy—Mask and Bauble actor—manager of something or other, and a lot more stuff that nobody knows, or ever knew, but him. He was sure acquainted with it, however, but modestly gave the credit all to dear old K. M. I.

Phi Sigma Kappa

That Uncle Tom's cabin which you now see on your right is the Phi Sigma Kappa house, home of Dutch Schleuter, Butch Talbert, Art Metzler and like cut-throats. The Phi Sigs are the Beau Brummells of the College and a man on an Arrow ad looks shamefully like a Sigma Pi in comparison. The Allies haven't much of a stand-in with this crew of loyal sons of the Vaterland, still they hate to miss out on anything. Do you remember when Dutch Schleuter went to the Irish banquet? The succession of discords which you hear pouring out of the house indicates that one of the musical genii are starting to work for next year's stunt show. It's a safe bet they'll win it, too. If the Phi Sigs would quit going out after every cup within a radius of  $118\frac{1}{2}$  miles there would be more room to turn around in the house. What's that? Madam, I am no scandal monger. Let Pewee attend to his own love affairs.

Perry Graves

Every Time I see Perry I Think I have to MAKE A WISH

There are still a few Greek letter institutions which we might visit, but we would see very little. There is the Alpha Sigma Raithel Phi house, but any one can see him at any time. We might go way over to the Acacia house, but these are queer birds and I hate to inflict them on your sunny dispositions such a bright and beautiful morning. A short interview with the Acacia crew has been known to make the sick sicker and even the well, indisposed. Oh, see who's coming up the street. It's none other than Perry Graves, the Dashing End from Rockford. Every time I see Perry I think I have to make a wish. Cap Squires, who also comes from Rockford and who plays the other end, is so knock-kneed that he has to wear roller bearings at the point of contact. At that I imagine Chicago would like to have a few such freaks scattered through her team.

Here we are, ladies and gentlemen, back to the starting point. Watch your step in getting off, and if you were pleased with the morning's outing don't admit it to your friends, and if you were not—DON'T TELL ME.

By the Way

Which would you rather join, Beta or the Cosmopolitan Club?

Wouldn't Bob Burton make a swell banquet for a family of squirrels?

Let's lay off that Theta fire stuff and discuss the Pi Phi Flood.

Rube Marquardt is an Alpha Delt, but you can't hold that against him.

Prof. Bentley is a Phi Psi, but you can't hold that against them.

From the actions of several of the members of the senior society we deduct that the pronounciation of the word is Muh's-a-wonder.

When Eddie Wallace gets on his Persian Lamb overcoat many people take him for the president of the University.

This is not so, however.

The first of the year a fraternity pledge looks forward to the initiation.

The morning after he looks behind to see the results.

Joe Greene did not capture Lee at Appomatax.

Grant did.

The Campus Scout is the humorous column on the Daily Illini.

Judging by the same scale, the obituary column is a scream.

The Alpha Chi's say Sandy McDonald has a wonderful physique.

They ought to know. Look where he rooms.

They do.

"BOB" THOMAS IN ROLE OF HERO AT ILLINOIS

Son of Rockford Fire Chief America Council of Fire-Fighting Squad.

CHAMPAIGN, Nov. 21.—(Times)—Writing that he lived up to the name of being the son of a fire chief, "Bob" Thomas, a student in the university and a member of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity, did valiant work in the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority house fire Thursday morning.

"Bob" was in charge of the "wreck" who cleared the house of furniture and after fire was done turned his attention to ending the champagne drinking in getting rid of the same. The young man is a son of Chief Thomas of Rockford. In his efforts to save he ruined a fine suit of clothes. Armed with a chemical tank, after the fire had been quieted a little, he rushed to the roof and directed the small stream where it would do the most good.

Having a record in the fire-fighting line, "Bob" is a member of the Illinois handball squad, being a pitcher and first baseman. In the fire he showed some of the nerve he had shown in playing in the national game.

LOCAL BOY PROMINENT

IN SPORT CIRCLES AT ILLINOIS UNIVERSITY — HARRY AINSWORTH ELECTED BASE BALL MANAGER

It is a matter of interest to Greensburg friends of Harry Ainsworth, a senior at Illinois University, to know that his popularity amongst the student body has resulted in his election to the position of president of the base ball squad of the University.

In this case it was particularly noteworthy because of Mr. Ainsworth's youth and inexperience in athletics. His popularity amongst the students was evidenced by the large plurality which he obtained at the polls. The office of base ball manager for the University is a responsible one, but no doubts are entertained by Harry's friends but that he will fill it with credit. Mr. Ainsworth is a member of the Sigma Nu Fraternity, the Agriculture Club, the Indiana Club and a representative on the Pan-Hellenic Council.

The night following the election a reception was given in honor of Mr. Ainsworth at the Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority house. A beautiful loving cup was presented him at the time.

Long live our Robert

HIS STUDIOUSNESS AND POPULARITY WIN HONOR

Chicago, March 1.—(Times)—And pop-ularity have won a great honor at the University of Illinois for John Ira McKnight, the Calumet high school graduate, who last summer won the Francis D. Venable scholarship.

Dispatches from Champaign announce that by an almost unanimous vote McKnight has been elected president of the freshmen class—the highest honor at the disposal of his class mates.

When informed of the honor Friday day his mother, Mrs. A. R. McKnight, said:

"We are very glad and proud to hear of John's always being a close student, and yet always finds time to be cordial and agreeable. Personal popularity must have come very strongly as well as his academic standing, and his election is most gratifying."

McKnight's general average for the whole four-year term at the Calumet high school was 94. During the last two years there he was president of his class.

Those rough Phi Psi boys to the front again.

Inspired by P— M— wearing a yard of lace and a grouch at the Masonic hall on the night of March 19, '15.

Backward, turn backward, O Time in thy flight.
Give us a girl that's not dressed like a sight.
Give us a co-ed whose charms howe'er few,
Are not all exposed by so much peekaboo.
Give us a freshman, no matter what age
That won't use the street for a vaudeville stage.
Give us a girl, not too shapely in view
And dress her in skirts that the sun can't shine thru,
Then make her a gown that shows such poor taste
That the back of its neck doesn't reach to her waist,
For we sensitive men as you must all admit
Will soon have to dance with wool mittens or quit.

game for The Illini in his characteristic excellent style.)

Special to The Daily Illini.

Illinois—Oh, sad, sad story,
Struggling o'er the sands of time,
Lived long years in black oblivion,
Raised no heroes—grand—sublime.

Ah, but through this desolation
See that brilliant light break out,
Shining, sparkling, effervescent
SIDNEY CASNER—sporting scout.

Lift your heads, all ye Illini,
Look around and view the flowers,
Presidents may come from Harvard,
But immortal Casner's ours.

He's the man that put this Uni
On a par with other schools,
Gave G. Huff his start in baseball,
Helped old Hoyle form all his rules.

Picks each fall the All-American,
Walter Camp—his non de plume,
So stand back, plebian mortals,
Give this demigod more room.

If you're of a nature skeptic,
Often much inclined to doubt,
And you don't believe this—ask him,
He's the man that let it out.

A few of the daylight amusements. The censor cut out the flash-lights.

You may be surprised to see two pages of an Illinois Roast Section devoted to South Haven. If such is the case, it is a safe bet that you have never breezed over to this Atlantic City of the West for the purpose of spending the "Fourth" or Labor Day in a bathing suit. South Haven is rapidly becoming the summer school of the University of Illinois. For years, several of the best known men about the campus have waited on table (if you can call what Bart does, waiting) at the Virginia Beach Hotel on the North Shore. There is not enough space to begin on a description of this college man's paradise so will have to leave you to glean as much as possible from the pictures. We print a list of a few of the Illinois people who have spent parts or all of the last two summers at South Haven.

(Suggested for the next Mask and Bauble play.)

The Mask and Bauble Actor of Mask and Bauble Fame.

THE HONORABLE A. M. BAKER, JR.,

Supported by

MISS MARY CALDWELL

In the Three-Act Tragedy

The Present President's Present to the Present President

(To be staged by Maskers and Baublers.)

CAST OF CHARACTERS

(In the order of IMPORTANCE)

THE HON. MR. A. M. BAKER, JR.,	President of Mask and Bauble.
MISS MARY CALDWELL,	In love with Mr. Baker.
MISS HILAH JANE LINK,	Interlocutor.
MR. MITCHELL WOLTER,	A Herald.
MISS EMMA PURSLEY,	For the PRESIDENT.
MISS NELL PATTERSON,	A member of a committee.
MISS MAE SEXAUER,	Also a member of a committee.
MR. F. C. FERGUSON,	Chairman of the committee.

Other club members, messengers, and interlocutors.

A Synopsis of Acts.

ACT I—SCENE 1.

Scene: A Stairway near 206 University Hall.

Time: Five minutes before the meeting of the club.

While F. C. Ferguson, the treasurer of the club, is ascending the stairs to a business meeting, he is met by the president, Mr. A. M. Baker. A lengthy discussion by Baker follows, the gist of which is: "Make a motion before the club to give me a token of appreciation of my services to the club".

(Curtain)

ACT II—SCENE 3.

Scene: 206 University Hall.

Time: At a regular business meeting.

F. C. Ferguson proposes to the club, that, since Mr. Baker has been so faithful in his work, a present would be fitting to show to the president the appreciation of the club. Mr. Baker, amidst confusion and many blushes, offers the president's chair to the Vice-Pres., Mitchell Wolter. Mr. Baker leaves the room softly murmuring, "This is so sudden".

ACT II—SCENE 1.

Scene: Two telephone booths.

Time: Any busy afternoon before the exams.

The honorable president calls up the treasurer, who is chairman of the "present" committee, and asks him (Ferguson) to accompany him (Baker) while he (Baker) picks out the present for him(self).

Baker: "I saw a fine one up at Craig's, Ferguson. It is a gold watch fob, just such as I would like. A man is standing with his arm upstretched, as if to signify success in dramatics, oratory, or debate. It is listed at $15, but if we are sweet to the clerk, I think she will let us have it at about $10 or $12. Call up the other members of this memorial committee, and tell them that you think twelve or fourteen dollars will not be too much to spend. And say! Fergy, you had better call up some of the other club members—about ten or twelve—and tell them that you are going to spend that amount for the present. You are treasurer, and they will think that if you are in favor of spending that much money it will be all well and good. Fergy, come over to dinner to-morrow night on the strength of this present. No, I can't go to-morrow morning, because I have classes. Oh! you can cut your afternoon classes for a thing like this."

(Curtain)

ACT II—SCENE 2.

Scene: Various places on the campus, where the club members might discuss this ponderous question. Classrooms, streetcars, telephone booths or the library.

Time: Scandal time.

The various members tell each other of the plan of the president, and argue pro and con, mostly con.

(Curtain)

ACT III—SCENE 1.

Scene: The club rooms.

Time: The last meeting called by Mr. Baker.

Mr. Baker, expecting to receive his present, opens the meeting with his farewell speech, a thing well known, only after many attempts to give it in an oratorical and dramatic style. Before finishing this masterpiece, Mr. Baker is interrupted by the Herald, who announces to the club that the committee on memorials has a report to make, but that the report must be made in the absence of the president. The noble hero of the play, keen in all matters of mental calibre, here realizes that a plot has been constructed against him. He quickly ends his speech by offering to everyone present a sad, impressive "Goodbye". After a short hesitation that is painful to all, he says, "Mr. Wolter, I turn everything over to you." Again, his "Goodbye" rings through the dead silence and he is gone. The chairman of the memorial committee arises to make his report—a hushed silence—"Unfavorable" comes the word like a death sentence and the heroine of the play falls in a swoon. Several attendants rush up to the assistance of the fallen lady and soon the whole meeting is thrown into wild confusion. Miss Pursley, a personal friend of the president, remonstrates in his favor, but Miss Link ends the play with the dramatic lines, "Any man who has nerve enough to ask for a present should have backbone enough to withstand the refusal of it."

OUR FINAL GRADUATION

The scene is Hades and that grand old Dean of Men, Satan, is doling out the punishments in an admirable manner, fitting the penalty to the crime. Sid Casner is to be bored to death by seeing himself as others see him, while Dean Clark is being bored by a fearful pair of eyes behind an immense pair of goggles. Nat Carson is getting a dose of her own medicine by having her arm talked off, and the fate of Polly Adams is too terrible to describe. Ragtime friends are tortured by the raucous tones of that horrible pest, Bart Macomber, singing popular Roy Jones anthems, and Zeke Currier and his friend Lawnie are up to their chins in beer but can never drink. Dean Meyer, as is fitting, is being drawn and quartered, and all the little devils are operating on Bill Bennett to try to make a man out of him. In the background we see Jip Davis teaching all the South Haven beach ants to do the Pigeon-toed-giggle on a red hot dancing floor, and Butch Talbert is sitting in a spirited poker game where he continually draws to an open flush but never connects.

Tailor—"What size pockets do you want made for the trousers?"

Firebaugh—"Pints."

Jean to Hank—"Let's drop in and see Faith."

Hank—"No, we better not; Bart may be there."

Jean—"No, he's not—the lights are on."

November 15, 3 A. M. Meeting called to order in cell 19, Champaign Lock-up, by President Whitehead. Nearly all members responded to the roll call but Brother Keller, who being out of town was excused, and Brother Schlueter who, as Brother Talbert informed was detained in the Urbana chapter rooms. Brother Silkman proposed the name of Bart Macomber for membership in the club, but Brother Barler objected on the grounds that Bart had once been known to pray during a football game and was therefore ineligible. Brother Hall asked to be excused to hunt a looking glass as his neckwear was awry, but Sergeant-at-Arms Hudnutt objected and the matter was dropped. On motion of Brother Pinault and through the kindness of Brother Cavanaugh the meeting was adjourned with the usual lock step ceremonies.

The meeting was called to order by President Currier, who called upon Secretary Gene Schobinger. He read a paper on "Brooding and Breeding." Ed Morrissey moved that PeWee Buyers and Dean Clark be chloroformed as dangerous to the race. Markwardt suggested that the Dean be left out as there were several other organizations around the campus that were planning on doing the same thing to him and besides. Phil Armour moved that Frank Bane be appointed to do the Brutus act on Buyers and also suggested that a memorial shaft be erected in Crystal Lake park. Deakman, the chairman of the committee on "Mating and Matrimony," reports that—More censor stuff. What chance has a poor Roast editor got? On motion of Frank Bane the meeting was adjourned with the usual exercises.

T. A. C. FAVORS HONOR SYSTEM

At 10:48 yesterday A. M. Tommy punched the button that summons the trusty Fiero.

"Emer, my boy, have the class rooms been fitted with the latest type of concealed dictograph capable of recording the slightest whisper?"

"They have, sir."

"And have all the concealed cameras been placed with means for operating them from a distance?"

"Yes, sir."

"And have the telescopes been installed so as to command a view through the windows of every class room?"

"They have."

"And is there now a private detective enrolled as a student in every class?"

"I believe there is."

"Good. You may give the reporter a statement saying I am in favor of the Honor System at Illinois."

Miss "Girly" Miller of Champaign has accepted a bid to the Sigma Nu frat. Well, she was certainly rushed long enough.

The Sigma Chi frat picture looks to us like a section of the East bleachers.

It's rather old by this time, but it has occurred to us that the returns from the first semester Junior election were Hartless.

We was talking to our fellow scribe, Seidenberg, last week, and he says that some people can't pass up a beggar on the street, but he can, it's all in getting used to it.

We are happy to announce that Mr. Healy will again coach the Champaign high school football team next year and in addition will be an instructor in Algebra. Let X equal the unknown or location of Joe Keller.

We wish we had a stand in with the Dean like Howard Walton thinks he has with his Alton girl. If conceit were consumption poor Abe would be on his way to Arizona by this time.

If B. V. Lichter studied his school work as hard as he studies "How to Behave in Company", he would be a Phi Beta Kappa by this time. The part that gets us is that we have never seen him go anywhere.

We was bid Commitatus last night, but we'll be durned if we'll pay five dollars to make an ass out of ourselves.

The local chapter of Zeta Beta Tau are now holding their meetings in the office of the Daily Illini, opening the same with full synagogue ceremonies.

Society Note—Nig Healy has returned to his apartments in the Delta Tau Delta house after spending the winter in the bowling alley.

We was walking down John street with Snapper the other day when a couple of co-eds got between us and the sun. Snapper remarked that he never did care to have them bowed, but we told him that any one who would look a gift horse in the mouth was no gentleman.

AND WE OUGHT TO BE THANKFUL FOR THAT

If we didn't have rag dancing,
That most ungodly sin,
That ruins all our morals
And makes the devil grin,
If we didn't have some cribbers,
(A fact deplorable)
What chance would poor old Seidy have
To keep his paper full?

If politics were really straight
If we had no sophomore ball,
If all the S. A. E's left school
It wouldn't do at all.
For how could Arthur A. Odell
With his band of henchmen true,
Show the University,
What a union, great, can do?

And if we had no daily
And no Y. M. C. A.,
If all the Kappa Sigs in school
Should quickly pass away.
If Col. Greene should go to war,
And Casner fail to pass,
Who at this great school of ours
Would be the college ass?

Song written by Nig Healy on November 15, and put to a plaintive tune
by Dug McRobie:

"All the world seems dreary,
All the skies are grey.
Somehow things don't seem the same
Since Keller went away.

NO, THERE'S NO SENSE TO IT AT ALL

'Twas midnight of the year 4044 and the rising sun was slowly fading away in the North. Suddenly from out this maelstrom staggered a meteorological manikin. Whang, whang, purred the shoe-lace and in accents disconsolate the hills re-echoed, Whang. And Chapel chime chirping for its mate.

so on toiled the long weary night. An eye for an eye and a tooth for a grape nut but soft words never turned away a bill collector nor in like manner was our hero to be turned away from his fell purpose.
Buzz, Buzz, three times Buzz moaned the scrambled egg in muffled tones. Buzz, Buzz, four times Buzz, answered the steam shovel, but it was too late for 'round about them rose the chickerous chinkel of a chapel chime chirping for its mate. In an instant it had all dawned upon him. Spring was less than twenty miles away and the gallant boys in blue would soon be living in glass houses. If not, why not?
For the life of him he could not tell. State three instances and give your reasons but the only response was a solitary jitney bus sorrowfully mumbling tit-willow, tit-willow, tit-willow. But the laundry bag understood and nodded its head in sympathy. Cur-few shall not spare that burning deck. The moral is clear.

"The Part I Would Play in a War
Between the United States and Germany."

By JOSEPH NATHANIEL
GREENE

This modest little pamphlet of some 1400 pages recently issued by our well known student colonel is a stirring story of a dauntless, red-blooded hero, written by himself. The book has a very modest air to it for such a great man as Col. Greene, who can not help knowing that he holds a very prominent position in the world. He even goes so far as to admit that Gen. Joffre might make a valuable staff officer for him. Those who have seen Joe bully the frosh around on the South campus feel sure that he could make quick work of the Kaiser.

"College Education Viewed as a Life Work."

By the late
ROSWELL FRANCIS FIELD

This is a clever volume by a man who is universally recognized as an authority on the subject. He discusses the subject under three headings. First, "Classes and School Work". The author's quaint and whimsical way of treating this heading has elicited interest if not praise from nearly every member of the college community. Second, "Regular University Work". Under this heading he takes up frat life and frat customs, enlarging on the lazy bohemian atmosphere of old Alpha Delta Phi. Bradley's Arcade as a sociability center is discussed, and several ingenious methods of inducing Cece to put a dime's worth of ingredients into a Mahomat Sundae are described. His third heading, "Women, and Their Refining influence on the Adolescent Youth", is perhaps the most inspiring of the three. Space prohibits a complete review of this section, but its chief innovation is a 14-page directory of "Who's Who in Terre Haute"?

"How to Conduct One's Self at a Sorority House."

By CHARLEY WEEMS

This is by far the most complete book of its kind ever published and will be welcomed by university men throughout the country. Various methods of sponging a Sunday evening meal from a group of sorority women are taken up in detail and reduced to a simplicity that is marvelous. No detail of etiquette, however minute, is left out. An entire chapter is devoted to coy methods used in disposing of olive seeds after they have been peeled.

An appendix is featured by a complete set of burglar plans for every sorority house in Champaign and the art of concealing hand-painted plates beneath the coat and table spoons within the vest pocket is expounded in the author's characteristically gripping style.

189 pages. Cloth; net $1.25.

"A Night in Ten Bar Rooms."

By WALDO SCHLEUTER

Thrilling personal experience of a man who has seen the bottom of the pit. A strong temperance story. The book is headed by a full page picture of the author and this is a good temperance lesson in itself. A short helpful bible quotation is placed below, which reads: What is always in dutch at the Pi Phi house? Ans. A Hershey bar. What stronger lesson could we give the rising generation than this example of an erstwhile degenerate completely cured under the all refining influence. A good book on which to raise the children.

200 pgs. Octavo. 12 mo. $1.50 net.

Every five dollar bill has 100,000 germs on it.

This is in memoriam to Gip Davis. He hasn't died yet but he is too good to be true. Illinois never will be able to keep such a great man and we feel sure that his stay with us will be short. Anyway the subject is a bit sad, so we place it in crepe.

The World's Tallest Silo—16 x 108 ft.

POLK SYSTEM SILOS

American farmers have gone SILO-SANE. When they were refusing to build silos,—when they were experimenting with little, low, ramshackle, tumble-down silos, full of angles and cracks and regrets—then they were SILO-MAD.

Today there are two kinds of American farmers, silo-wise farmers and other-wise farmers. The silo-wise farmers are steadily demanding tall, substantial silos, built of everlasting monolithic concrete; for they know that PERMANENT EVER-SERVICEABLE STRUCTURES ARE TRULY ECONOMICAL. The other-wise farmer is getting along with—well, too extravagantly to get very far.

YOUR FARM will not be fully equipped until it boasts a POLK SYSTEM SILO, or a battery of them. The only difference between a POLK SYSTEM SILO and ETERNITY is that the POLK SYSTEM SILO has a beginning.

Cranks on Sanitation

The Champaign Ice Cream Company are "Sanitation" cranks. To begin with, they built their own sanitary factory. Just any old building wasn't good enough for them, so they had to have one made to their particular order, fitted with their own particular machinery and apparatus for producing strictly sanitary and absolutely clean Ice Cream.

In all this they have succeeded. A model plant is theirs and their product is everything that could be desired.

FARM THE AULTMAN-TAYLOR WAY IT'S THE CHEAPEST WAY—THE EASIEST WAY—THE BEST WAY

You, in order to carry out your plans of scientific farming, will need the services of a farm tractor of the first quality. You should know that the horse to the scientific farmer of today no longer holds first place as a prime mover on the farm. His cost, his inefficiency, his limitations, place him in the back ground as an economical factor on the farm. The Aultman-Taylor Gasoline-Kerosene Tractor is the power behind successful farming today. No other tractor can give you such entire satisfaction—no other tractor is so ideally adapted to the power needs of the farm. You can plow at just the right time and do a better job than is possible with horses. You can sow when conditions are ideal. You can reap when your crops should be gathered. You can haul your crops to market when prices are most attractive. All this and a thousand other power jobs about the farm can be done better, cheaper and with more satisfaction and less worry than with any other available power. You'll want to know more about the Aultman-Taylor way of farming—it's the modern, money-making way.

Aultman-Taylor Gas Tractors

insure bigger and better crops, less expense in raising them—less hard work. The Aultman-Taylor Gas Tractor is no experiment. It's worth has been proven on thousands of farms throughout the United States and Canada. The Aultman-Taylor Gas Tractor in the 1912 Winnipeg Contest won highest honors. Records made and established in this competitive test have never been anywhere near approached by any other tractor since that time. Aultman-Taylor Gas Tractors use Gasoline, Kerosene or Distillate with remarkable economy and efficiency. They make good everywhere.

Typewrite Your Notes

How many times a college graduate is heard to exclaim—"If I only had copies of my notes under Prof. ——."

Why hasn't he? Because he has no typewriter with which to put them into proper shape. After two or three years, he cannot remember the work his notes mentioned and in disgust he throws them away.

Non-collegians often ask "What good does a college course do?" On the defensive, the graduate has to admit that he has forgotten almost all he learned in college, but takes refuge in asserting generalities about culture, mental training, etc.

Now suppose the student writes notes on a typewriter and retains carbon copies of them for future reference. In the first place, he gains the confidence of his college professors by going at his college course in a workmanlike manner. He submits his essays and theses in neat, typewritten manuscript. He receives higher marks than the man who hands in illegible, hand-written matter.

The L. C. Smith & Bros. typewriter is the favorite with college students, because it is easy to operate and durable. It has ball bearings at all points where friction tends to develop.

No matter what your future work in life may be, the knowledge of how to run a typewriter will prove of great benefit.

NOW IS THE TIME TO START RIGHT.

Pumps of Quality

For nearly half a century "American" pumps have been noted for their quality, efficiency and reliability.

"American" centrifugal pumps meet the widest range of pumping conditions, for the reason that they are built in types to meet every condition of service, instead of attempting to adapt location to a single type of pump. Catalog 132 describes them.

"American" deep well plunger pumps have been the standard in this type of pump for many years. Described in Catalog 130.

BUMPER CROPS

Must Be Fed As Well As Bred

No matter how good the seed, no crop can ever be a success without a "balanced-soil-feeding." Most land is too acid—too sour—and sour land gives just about as much nourishment to growing crops as sour bread does to growing boys. Many soils need only the right amount of "COLUMBIA" GROUND LIMESTONE to raise bumper crops. "COLUMBIA" GROUND LIMESTONE corrects the acidity of the soil and improves mechanical condition. Don't make the mistake of using Quick-Lime or Hydrated-Lime, because, while they correct acidity they also burn out the manure and other organic matter and destroy nitrogen. Putting into your soil is like putting money in the bank—it's a sure dividend producer. It assures strong, lusty plants that better resist the attacks of insects and germ pests—and heavier yields of clean, sound field crops, vegetables and fruits.

"COLUMBIA" Ground Limestone

Alfalfa, Clover, Cow Peas or other legumes cannot be successfully raised on sour or acid soil. Make your soil "sweet" with Ground Limestone then plant your legumes and follow them up with wheat and note the remarkable crop increase.

You can't afford to let another planting come around without positive knowledge as to whether or not "COLUMBIA" GROUND LIMESTONE is the one thing most needed to make your land yield bumper crops.

FREE BOOKLET ON LIMESTONE IN THE SOIL AND PROPER ACID TEST

A valuable treatise on scientific fertilizing. It is complete and trustworthy and contains suggestions which means more crop profits to the farmer who follows them out. We will also send free, full directions for accurate soil test. Write today—no obligation implied by request for booklet and test.

THE "RACINE" FANNING MILL

Combined Grain Grader, Cleaner and Seed Separator

Bagging attachment holds two sacks and saves wasting grain and seed and the work of two men. One man can clean more seed grain than three men can clean with an ordinary mill in the same time. No farmer can afford to plant imperfect grain or weed seed. Selling the "Racine" means this: You make a good profit on each sale and by saving time and money for your farmer friends and increasing the value of their crops, you are helping yourself toward profits on other goods they will need.

If there is no dealer in your town handling this mill, write us how you can get one without costing you anything.

Seventeen years ago the first bag of CHICAGO-AA Portland Cement was placed on the market, and since that time the reputation of CHICAGO-AA has grown rapidly.

Seventeen years of day and night watching by a corps of competent chemists, has prevented any variation in the quality of CHICAGO-AA.

In all the years that CHICAGO-AA has been on the market, there has never been a justifiable complaint. High quality and attractive and uniform color have created a large and constantly growing demand for the brand that has made good in service, CHICAGO-AA.

Here is the Plan of the Mercantile Trust Company First Mortgage $500 Real Estate Serial Notes

¶ The owner of an income-producing property, which is valued at say $100,000, applies for a loan of $50,000, or less. After careful personal investigation and appraisal of the property by an officer of this Company and consideration and approval of our Board of Directors, we agree to make the loan.

¶ This loan is to be paid serially—that is, an agreed amount payable each year for four years, and the balance at the end of the fifth year. This loan of $50,000 is made up of 100 serial notes of $500 each, all secured by a FIRST MORTGAGE on this property of at least twice the value of the entire loan.

¶ Every six months the interest is payable. At the end of each year a certain number of the $500 notes must be paid in full. The full security of $100,000 value remains in force, and no part of the mortgage can be released until the last $500 note is paid.

¶ Each Real Estate Serial Note sold by the Mercantile Trust Company has first been bought outright by us and held as an investment until disposed of. The proceeds enable us to make other loans. Our profit is the commission charged the borrower.

¶ By our Serial plan, the investor of limited means can thus participate in the highest class of real estate loans.

* If you contemplate making an investment, send for our detailed circulars.

PRINTERS OF THE 1916 ILLIO

FEEL justly proud of The 1916 Illio. They are to a large extent responsible for the fact that it is out on time. They have printed it on paper that many companies said was not practicable for a college annual. They have done it well. They have handled the difficult three-color plates in an excellent manner.
